The hands that reached for me,
Encouraged me to look beyond myself and see
That I could help others as people have helped me.
And so I thank you with all my heart for being there.
Others just like me will need your love and care.
Your gentle nudge to send them on their way.
To take them from where they are
To where I am today.

Artwork by Chris P.
Poem by Melissa