Executive Summary

Introduction

The Texas Department of Family and Protective Services (DFPS) serves the state's children, youth, families, and people who are elderly or have disabilities. The 2013 Annual Report and Data Book is an overview of the department's programs, services, performance, and accomplishments, as well as a comprehensive statistical explanation of DFPS services. This report covers the period of September 1, 2012 through August 31, 2013. You can find this report and other information on the department's website at dfps.state.tx.us.

The Texas Department of Family and Protective Services:

- Is recognized for innovative, effective services.
- Builds strong, effective partnerships with clients, communities, providers, and state leaders.
- Provides effective leadership that is accountable for its actions and communicates openly with clients and stakeholders.
- Supports staff members who are highly motivated, diverse, ethical, well trained, and professional.

Values

- We protect the unprotected.
- We involve clients, families, and communities in decision making.
- We provide quality services.
- We are innovative and strive for excellence.
- We are ethical and accountable.
- We promote diversity.
- We value our staff.

DFPS Staffing and Structure

The DFPS commissioner is appointed by the executive commissioner of the Texas Health and Human Services Commission and directs 10,672 employees in 287 local offices located in 11 regions and a state headquarters in Austin. DFPS has four major programs: Child Protective Services (CPS), Adult Protective Services (APS), Child Care Licensing (CCL), and Prevention and Early Intervention (PEI), which is administered by CPS.

A nine-member council is appointed by the Governor and confirmed by the Texas Senate. The council makes recommendations on the department's rules and policies and provides a venue for public input.

Texas Abuse Hotline

State law requires anyone who believes a child is being abused or neglected, or an adult who is 65 years or older or who has a disability is being abused, neglected, or exploited, to report it.

DFPS' Statewide Intake program takes reports of abuse, neglect, and exploitation from across the state through its Texas Abuse Hotline (1-800-252-5400) and through a secure website (TxAbuseHotline.org). The Texas Abuse Hotline operates 24-hours a day, every day of the year.

Statewide Intake also accepts reports of abuse and neglect in facilities operated by the state or community providers that serve adults and children with mental illness or intellectual disabilities. These facilities and providers are managed by the Texas Department of Aging and Disability Services (DADS) and the Texas Department of State Health Services (DSHS). Contact 1-800-647-7418 to report abuse, neglect, or exploitation in these facilities and programs.

The Statewide Intake program, assigns a priority to all reports that meet the statutory definitions of abuse, neglect, or exploitation that is based on the safety of the alleged victim. It then forwards these reports to the appropriate program to investigate and notifies law enforcement agencies in cases involving children.

Texas Youth and Runaway Hotline

The toll-free Texas Youth and Runaway Hotline offers crisis intervention, telephone counseling, and referrals to troubled youth and families. Volunteers answer the phones and interact with callers facing a variety of problems including family conflict, delinquency, truancy, and abuse and neglect issues. The hotline phone number is 1-800-989-6884, and is available to youths, their families, school employees, youth care workers, law enforcement agencies, and anyone in need of community services. Learn more by visiting Texas Youth and Runaway Hotline website at TexasYouth.org.

Emergency Resource Rooms

In emergency resource rooms, caseworkers can get emergency supplies or special items like diapers, cleaning supplies, clothes, and small furniture to meet the needs of their clients. CPS resource rooms are called Rainbow Rooms and APS resource rooms are called Silver Star Rooms or Bridge Rooms. 216 emergency resource rooms served 113,105 DFPS clients in FY 2013.

DFPS Volunteers

DFPS caseworkers rely on community action and awareness to assist families struggling with abuse, neglect, and exploitation. In FY 2013, over 4,500 DFPS volunteers and volunteer groups worked along-side DFPS employees to provide awareness, prevention and intervention services

Trained DFPS volunteers:

- Deliver prevention and intervention services.
- Promote policies and programs that build healthy families.
- Expand a network of community resources that support and nurture DFPS clients.
- Make unique contributions to those Texans least able to protect themselves.

Office of Consumer Affairs

The Office of Consumer Affairs (OCA) handles complaints and legislative inquiries about DFPS programs. The purpose of OCA is to address the concerns of DFPS clients, their families, other stakeholders, and the public in a fair and unbiased manner. OCA also documents and shares the results of their reviews with DFPS state and regional administrators to help improve the quality of services. Individuals may contact the OCA by calling a toll number (1-800-720-7777), through the DFPS website, or by email at OCA@DFPS.state.tx.us.

OCA handled 4,590 complaints, 14,002 general inquiries, and 717 legislative inquiries in FY 2013. OCA validated 8.7 percent of complaints received.

Adult Protective Services

Responsibilities

The responsibilities of Adult Protective Services (APS) are to:

- Investigate reports of abuse, neglect, and financial exploitation of adults in the community who are 65 or older or who have disabilities, and to provide or arrange for protective services as needed.
- Investigate reports of abuse, neglect, and financial exploitation of individuals living in state-operated facilities as well as adults and children with mental illness or intellectual disabilities who are served in state-contracted community settings.

2013 Accomplishments and Initiatives

Regional Reviews

APS conducts regional reviews to ensure quality service is being provided to the program's clients at the local and regional level. In FY 2013, APS conducted reviews in Northwest Texas (Regions 2/9) and Central Texas (Region 7) to assess program performance, learn about best practices, and more fully understand the unique challenges facing frontline case-workers. APS uses this information to improve APS policy and casework practice. APS will review other areas throughout the state in coming years.

Improving Facility Investigations

APS continued its effort in FY 2013 to improve the timeliness and efficiency of facility investigations. The focus was on consistency in decision-making. APS implemented new processes to better coordinate and communicate with its facility-investigation units statewide. These changes included a new program improvement committee for facility investigations, improving the quality of feedback from state office after case reviews, developing new quality assurance standards, and holding quarterly meeting for supervisors.

Improving In-Home Investigations and Services

APS implemented changes in rules and policies in FY 2013 to improve the services of its In-Home program, which investigates allegations of abuse, neglect, and financial exploitation of vulnerable adults in the community. When maltreatment is confirmed, the program provides and arranges for services to stop the abuse, neglect or financial exploitation (ANE).

The Texas Legislature (Senate Bill 221, 82nd R.S.) gave APS the authority to define abuse, neglect, and financial exploitation in rule, replacing definitions in law. The new rules focus investigations and limited resources on the alleged victims APS is most able to help. They also hold paid caretakers to a higher standard of duty than unpaid caretakers.

New guidelines also strengthen the screening of ANE reports by Statewide Intake and clarified the types of adults with disabilities that qualify for APS services. As expected, the number of APS investigations dropped. APS closely monitored this decline to guard against unintended consequences.

APS' other major focus for improving the In-Home program was developing new processes and assessment tools, known collectively as SHIELD. An APS group that included field staff worked with national experts to design the new processes and create tools to assess the safety, risk of recidivism, strengths, and needs of clients. APS used a pilot to gain valuable feedback on the new tools and expects to put them into practice in FY 2015.

Supervisor Training

APS offered training to all management staff in the summer of 2013 to help them become better leaders. Individual sessions for Facility and In-Home program supervisors focused on issues specific to each program.

Public Awareness

APS continued its public awareness campaign titled "It's Everyone's Business" in FY 2013. The campaign targets the general public, law enforcement, judicial partners, and other partner organizations that provide services to vulnerable adults through news stories, local conferences, and community awareness events.

The goals of the campaign include:

- Raising awareness about the problems of adult abuse, neglect, and financial exploitation.

- Enlisting community collaboration and support.
- Increasing awareness of APS programs and resources.

During October 2012, the campaign focused on financial exploitation with the theme, "If it's not your money, it's a crime." Regions worked with community partners such as law enforcement agencies, district attorneys, and banking institutions to provide education and awareness about financial exploitation of the people who are elderly or have disabilities. To learn more about APS public awareness activities and download information on elder abuse and financial exploitation, visit EveryonesBusiness.org.

May is Older Americans and Elder Abuse Prevention Month. On May 6, 2013, Senator Jose Rodriguez from El Paso welcomed APS Assistant Commissioner Beth Engelking and two members of Texas Partners for APS, Gabriella Reed and Michael Melson, to the Senate floor of the Capitol to proclaim May as Elder Abuse Prevention Month in Texas. In May, APS partnered with community agencies to promote education and awareness of elder abuse. Regional conferences, local media campaigns, and state and county proclamations highlighted the importance of protecting vulnerable adults from abuse, neglect, and financial exploitation.

Texas Partners for Adult Protective Services

Texas Partners for Adult Protective Services is a statewide non-profit organization that is affiliated with APS. It helps improve the lives of APS clients by developing resources and providing assistance to local boards that support APS. Texas Partners for APS is made up of volunteers who are nominated by local non-profit boards. Currently, APS collaborates with twenty-four non-profit boards throughout the state.

Texas non-profit boards:

- Sponsor community events to raise funds to purchase items for APS clients.
- Assist APS staff with educating the public and other service providers about elder abuse issues.

- Provide expertise as speakers for community events and training.
- Sponsor APS staff with recognition and appreciation events.
- Stock and maintain emergency resource rooms in APS offices, giving APS caseworkers easy access to basic necessities for clients.

APS Conference

The annual APS conference is a major national training event that offers continuing education credits to social workers. APS held the 29th annual APS conference in San Antonio during November 2012. The conference drew over 530 attendees from 16 states.

The conference offered two general sessions and 45 workshops. Workshops included topics such as identifying and assessing injuries in homes versus institutional settings, working with law enforcement, and untangling dementia. Every year, the conference gives staff the chance to network and to learn from and with others who serve, treat, and represent victims of abuse, neglect, or financial exploitation.

APS Programs

Two program areas serve APS clients: In-Home Investigations and Services, and Facility Investigations.

As the population of adults who are 65 and older or who have a disability continues to grow, so does the need for protective services. The workload for the In-Home Investigations and Services program had been at record high levels the past few years, but declined in FY 2013 due to new rules and policy. Many of APS' clients lived alone and depended on others for care. In FY 2013, the workload for the Facility Investigations program remained at the record high levels reached in 2011 and 2012.

For more information on Texas population demographics, see: DFPS Data Book, pages 9, 10, 123-128.

In-Home Investigations and Services

The largest APS program is In-Home Investigations and Services. The In-Home program investigates allegations of abuse, neglect, and financial exploitation of adults who are elderly or have disabilities and live in their own homes or in unlicensed room-and-board homes.

This program also investigates allegations of financial exploitation of adults living in nursing homes who may be financially exploited by someone outside the facility. State law requires anyone who believes that an adult who is elderly or has a disability is being abused, neglected, or financially exploited to report it. DFPS takes these reports at 1-800-252-5400 or online at TxAbuseHotline.org.

APS begins an investigation by contacting someone who has reliable and current information about the alleged victim within 24 hours of receiving a report. APS can make the initial contact in person or by phone. If APS confirms the allegation, it may provide or arrange for emergency services to alleviate abuse, neglect, or financial exploitation. These services may include short-term shelter, food, medication, health services, financial assistance for rent and utilities, transportation, and minor home repair.

APS works in partnership with other social service agencies to provide resources to vulnerable adults. APS also works closely with the Texas Department of Aging and Disability Services (DADS) on cases that may require guardianship services. APS investigators or DFPS intake caseworkers may notify law enforcement at any point during an investigation if they suspect the allegations constitute a crime.

For more information, see: DFPS Data Book, pages 7-20, 123-128.

Facility Investigations

APS is responsible for investigating abuse, neglect, and financial exploitation of people living in state-operated facilities and those receiving services in state-contracted community settings that serve adults and children with mental illness or intellectual disabilities. Investigations are conducted in:

- State-supported living centers, state hospitals, and the Rio Grande State Center.
- Community centers.
- Privately operated intermediate-care facilities for individuals with intellectual disabilities.
- Home and community-based waiver programs.

APS starts an investigation after DFPS' Texas Abuse Hotline receives an allegation. DFPS notifies the facility or provider agency within one hour and notifies law enforcement and the Health and Human Services Commission Office of Inspector General (OIG) within one hour if necessary. APS completes the investigation, makes a finding for each allegation, and sends a report to the provider as well as law enforcement and OIG if necessary. The provider is responsible for taking appropriate steps to protect their clients. APS also determines if the perpetrator meets the criteria for being added to the Employee Misconduct Registry. This registry bars people from certain jobs that involve working with people with disabilities (this also applies to certain In-Home cases). DFPS will send the name of the confirmed perpetrator to the registry after providing due process.

For more information, see: DFPS Data Book, pages 21-25, 129-131.

Going the Distance to Protect the Elderly

Twyla Young, APS caseworker who coordinated services for APS client, right, Otis Plaxton

Eighty-two year old Otis Plaxton was a kind man, who served his country, saved for retirement, and earned relaxing years as a senior citizen. However, in a matter of months, his life changed dramatically. A victim of financial fraud, he found himself being evicted from his assisted-living facility for non-payment. At the time, the only person he had to rely on was his daughter who lived in Florida.

That's when APS In-Home Caseworker Twyla Young of Abilene entered the scene. At the beginning of their year-long journey together, Young committed herself to making sure Plaxton got the help he needed and received a high standard of care.

Young soon discovered that this wonderful man didn't know where to start. He owed the facility thousands of dollars and had no long-term insurance to cover his stay. After several visits, she discovered that his monthly income was very small and he didn't qualify for veteran benefits. She knew that he needed to move due to his financial circumstances and did all she could to make the process as smooth and gentle as possible.

Mr. Plaxton also showed signs of short-term memory loss, which put his safety at even higher risk. So Young promptly sought the support of Mr. Plaxton's daughter so that he could get the care he needed.

Young began tackling both the issues of Plaxton's medical care and finances. She escorted him to his banks to get a better understanding of his finances and also educated him on Medicaid and assisted him with the application. She took him to visit three different housing options and helped him with the housing authority application as well.

When her client needed medical attention, she accompanied him to a doctor's appointment and advocated for a complete health assessment. She also took him to an appointment with a specialist. Ultimately his diagnosis qualified him for nursing home placement but none of the eleven nursing homes she contacted would accept him. Young enlisted the help of a health insurance provider and an attorney and finally found a nursing facility where Mr. Plaxton could get the care he needed.

But, that's not the end of the story. Young took it upon herself to protect her client's belongings. She contracted with a cleaning company, a moving company, and a local antique dealer to help allow Mr. Plaxton to decide what to do with his belongings. While he was sad to have to let go of what little he had left, he decided to box everything up, and he was comforted by Young that everything would be okay.

After such a long journey, Young had finally ensured Mr. Plaxton's safety and care. However, as she was wrapping up the case, she received a call from Mr. Plaxton. He wanted Young at his side for a meeting with his doctors, nurses, and daughter. Because he was losing weight at a disturbing speed, had long-term breathing problems, and dementia, the team of care providers decided it was time for Mr. Plaxton to enter hospice. With tears in her eyes, Young knew she had done her job, and now he was in good hands.

Mr. Plaxton's daughter was so grateful for everything Young had done for her father. After the meeting she contacted APS to let them know about her outstanding care and work. "She is an amazingly compassionate person with a gift for working with the elderly as well as family members. My father and I are truly blessed that she was assigned to him."

Child Care Licensing

Responsibilities

The responsibilities of Child Care Licensing (CCL) are to:

- Regulate all childcare operations and child-placing agencies to protect the health, safety, and well-being of children in care.
- Permit and monitor operations and agencies for compliance with state licensing standards, rules and laws.
- Investigate complaints alleging violations of minimum standards and reports of abuse or neglect in daycare and residential childcare operations.
- Inform parents and the public about child care, including how specific daycare and residential childcare operations are complying with minimum standards of care.
- Give child-care providers technical assistance on meeting licensing standards, rules, and laws.

2013 Accomplishments and Initiatives

Improving Texas Child Care

Crib Safety

Child Care Licensing changed the minimum standards in FY 2013 to reflect the crib safety requirements adopted by the U.S. Consumer Product Safety Commission (CPSC). All cribs sold in the U.S. must meet five federal requirements for overall crib safety. These include stronger hardware, no traditional drop sides, improved slat strength, improved mattress durability, and more rigorous safety testing. The changes in federal law are now part of minimum standards. Childcare operations serving infants must show that their cribs either comply with the new standards or are listed and registered with the U.S. Food and Drug Administration as a medical device. CCL consults with operations to help them understand crib requirements and checks to make sure they comply. CCL also provides the CPSC Guide to New Crib Standards in both English and Spanish in its online Technical Assistance Library, which is available to everyone.

Safe Sleep

Childcare minimum standards on safe sleep were changed to reflect the updated safe sleep practice guidelines issued by the American Academy of Pediatrics (AAP). The AAP guidelines recommends against using sleep positioners and blankets for children younger than 12 months of age. CCL revised minimum standards to prohibit the use of loose bedding such as blankets and sleep positioning devices for infants up to 12 months of age.

Fees

In FY 2013, CCL improved processes for collecting and recording licensing fees to better meet its legal responsibilities. CCL replaced its old fee payment form with five, simplified fee forms. The new forms are specific to the operation type and clearly identify the types of fees required. New applicants now only need the fee form in their application packet, and existing operations are sent the correct fee form when their annual fee is due. CCL also strengthened procedures for collecting fees to ensure it does not issue permits when an operation fails to pay fees required by law.

Surveys

In order to continually improve inspections and protections for children, CCL asks for feedback from daycare and residential childcare providers on their licensing inspections. Providers are asked to complete an online survey after each inspection. The questions relate to professionalism, fairness, and the helpfulness of the inspector or investigator. Data for FY 2013 shows that providers are generally satisfied with their inspector or investigator in both programs and say inspections and investigations are positive experiences.

Legislative Initiatives

Controlling Persons Initiative

The Controlling Persons initiative enables Texas Health and Human Services agencies to share information through a database containing information about the permits they revoke or deny to see if one agency's actions have a bearing on another's regulatory decisions. The initiative began in 2011 when the Legislature expanded “controlling persons” to apply to daycare in addition to residential operations. The initiative focused on building strong staff processes and automated tools to share the required information. It became fully operational in FY 2013 when system improvements made it possible for operations and some applicants to submit controlling person information to CCL online. A controlling person is a person who, either alone or in connection with others, has the ability to directly or indirectly influence or direct the management, expenditures, or policies of a childcare operation.

Illegal Childcare Operations

In FY 2013, the Texas Legislature approved 40 additional staff for CCL’s Day Care program to address the risk to children in unregulated daycare settings. Beginning in FY 2014, these new staff will help find and investigate illegal operations and either help them obtain a permit, or shut them down. Texas law requires daycare and residential childcare operations to obtain a permit from DFPS to provide care outside a child’s home, unless they meet criteria to be exempted. Illegal operations present higher risk to children because they don’t get inspected or meet training, background check, or other basic health and safety requirements.

Human Trafficking

CCL licenses 24-hour residential childcare operations that care for abused and neglected children, but it can be particularly challenging to treat the complex trauma that human trafficking inflicts on children. In FY 2013, the 83rd Texas Legislature passed House Bill 2725, which will result in a tailored set of licensing standards to address the needs of these children. The Legislature also made information about the location of human-trafficking shelters confidential by law.

Biennial Inspections

In FY 2013, the Legislature gave CCL the option of conducting an unannounced monitoring inspection every two years instead of annually for licensed daycare centers and licensed daycare homes with a good record. CCL will work with stakeholders to develop rules and processes for deciding which operations qualify. Until then, CCL will continue to inspect operations at least once a year.

Technology Enhancements

DFPS made several improvements in FY 2013 to CCL’s automated case management system (CLASS) and to other online systems to better support childcare providers and CCL staff. These include a stronger search feature for CCL staff, address validation, and an online director and administrator vacancy indicator. When a person applies for a childcare permit, CCL staff can now search for and review an individual’s history in CLASS. The address validation feature standardizes and validates addresses to help ensure required notices and other communications reach childcare providers. The online vacancy indicator helps CCL ensure vacancies for required positions are filled in a timely manner, increasing protections for children.

Public Awareness

Search Texas Child Care

One of the most important services that CCL provides is information to parents, stakeholders, and others interested in child care. The DFPS website contains comprehensive compliance and regulatory information for both residential and daycare operations. Anyone who wants to find and compare child care can use our online database (TxChildCareSearch.org) to search by type of care, location, services offered, name, or address. They will find two years of compliance history for each operation, including a summary of inspections and deficiencies. The Texas Child Care Search results were viewed 1,501,447 times in FY 2013.

Don't Be in the Dark

CCL continued its Don't Be in the Dark (about child care) campaign during FY 2013. CCL launched the campaign in 2006 and expanded it in 2010 to feature two sets of public services announcements in English and Spanish. One focused on choosing regulated care and the other on parents listening to their children and talking to their childcare provider. The spots are available to the public on the campaign website as well as the DFPS YouTube channel at <http://youtube.com/user/TexasDFPS>.

The campaign directs parents, consumers and others to the agency's childcare database (TxChildCareSearch.org), where they can find and research the regulatory compliance history of daycare and residential childcare operations. Visit DontBeInTheDark.org for more information.

Baby Room to Breathe

The Baby Room to Breathe campaign continued during FY 2013 with the goal of educating parents and caregivers on ways to lower the risk of infants dying in their sleep. There is also a parent instructional video in English and Spanish on safer infant sleep located on the DFPS YouTube channel (<http://www.youtube.com/user/TexasDFPS>) and the campaign websites, BabyRoomToBreathe.org and BebeEspacioParaRespirar.org.

Watch Kids Around Water

"Watch Kids Around Water" the water safety campaign, sponsored by the CCL and the Prevention and Early Intervention programs, continued in FY 2013. Press releases were issued before the 2013 Memorial Day and July 4th holiday weekends to call attention to the issue of child drowning deaths. WatchKidsAroundWater.org provides water safety tips, drowning statistics, and a "Lifeguard 101" teaching tool. The goal is to educate and motivate parents and other adults to "be a lifeguard" for kids.

Car Safety- Look Before You Lock

CCL collaborated with the Prevention and Early Intervention program to raise awareness of the dangers of leaving children in hot vehicles because a child trapped in a car can die from the heat in only a few minutes. CCL distributed over 56,000 rearview mirror hangtags with the message "Check Every Seat Every Time" to remind those transporting children to make sure all children get out of the vehicle after every trip. CCL distributed the hangtags to daycare and residential childcare operations in a variety of ways including during inspections and investigations, orientation and training sessions, and community events related to child care.

Partners for Child Care Licensing

CCL continues building and strengthening connections with community partners and other agencies and programs. These include the Texas Department of Public Safety, Texas Department of State Health Services, Texas Workforce Commission, AgriLife Texas Cooperative Extension (Texas A&M University system), Texas Department of Assistive and Rehabilitative Services Division of Early Childhood Intervention, Texas Education Agency, Texas Department of Agriculture, Office of the Attorney General, HHSC Office of Early Childhood Coordination, HHSC Family Violence Program, State Fire Marshal's Office, the Forensic Assessment Center Network, and 2-1-1 Texas.

CCL Services

The CCL program is responsible for protecting the health, safety, and well-being of children (birth through 17 years of age) who attend daycare or reside in residential childcare operations. Through a process mandated by Chapters 42 and 43 of the Human Resources Code, CCL develops administrative rules and minimum standards for daycare operations, child-placing agencies, and residential childcare operations. CCL also develops policies and procedures for CCL staff to follow when conducting regulatory activities, which include:

- Processing applications and issuing permits.
- Inspecting childcare operations.
- Investigating complaints alleging violations of licensing laws, rules, or minimum standards.
- Investigating reports of abuse, neglect or exploitation of children in care.

Pint-Size Playhouse Stands Tall in Licensed Home Care Community

Nicole Perez opens up her home to 8 children each day and goes the extra mile to keep them safe. “Proper supervision and strong classroom management skills are the keys to classroom safety,” she says. When asked how she continues to receive high marks on licensing inspections she says, “Being organized is my secret.”

Perez is adamant when she discusses child safety, “I never intended to open this business and gives less than 110%!” To keep track of everything she writes important dates and activities on her calendar such as her annual renewal deadline, needed background checks, and fire extinguisher inspections. “It’s easy to lose track of time when you work from home in your own environment and have a repetitive routine,” she says. But having high standards for safety and organization doesn’t mean she’s not having fun. She describes her approach to child care as “fun-spirited” and intentionally creates an atmosphere that is comfortable, fun, and designed to foster creativity and social development in the children.

Perez is not new to providing child care, after college she worked in several nanny positions and provided care at various licensed child care centers. She even taught parenting classes after becoming a certified Parent Educator. After having children of her own she says she was blessed to be a stay at home mom for four years before deciding to reenter the workforce.

In 2005, Perez opened a Registered Child Care Home. Then, in 2010 she applied to be a Licensed Child Care Home provider. She would recommend to anyone interested in starting up a Licensed Home to first start with a smaller group of kids in a Registered Home. “When you’re your own boss, administrator, bookkeeper, teacher, and nurse...

having a smaller group at first is really helpful.” She also sought the advice and guidance of the Child Care Professionals of Greater Austin (CCPGA), a local child care association dedicated to supporting home care providers, which she says was invaluable to her small business getting off the ground.

Since opening up her licensed operation Perez has worked hard to provide quality care to the children she cares for each day, which means going above and beyond the Texas Licensing Minimum Standards. “They’re called Minimum Standards for a reason, meaning you can always perform better,” she says. If there is ever confusion about a state licensing requirement or policy, she picks up the phone and calls the agency. With a smile Perez says, “I’m in the Kid Business, this is serious stuff, and I love it.”

- Ensuring criminal background checks and DFPS abuse and neglect Central Registry checks are conducted as required on childcare personnel, and anyone 14 years or older who will regularly be at an operation while children are in care.
- Providing consultation, technical assistance, and training to potential and existing childcare providers on how to comply with minimum standards.
- Taking corrective or adverse actions against operations as necessary.

CCL also helps parents and others make informed decisions when choosing child care or making residential placements by giving them information about the types of child care available, the locations of childcare operations in Texas, and the results of licensing inspections and investigations.

Who We Regulate

CCL regulates four basic categories of childcare operations: licensed operations (day care and 24-hour residential child care), registered childcare homes, listed family homes, and operations with a compliance certificate.

Licensed Operations

All licensed operations have specific minimum standards to follow and are routinely monitored and inspected by CCL. The applicant must complete a pre-application overview or orientation on regulation and be cleared by background checks. CCL issues a license only after it completes an on-site inspection to ensure the applicant is meeting licensing standards. CCL inspects licensed operations at least annually or more often if there are reports of alleged child abuse or neglect or violations of licensing statute, administrative rules, or minimum standards. Licensed operations include both day care and 24-hour residential child care.

Day Care

- Licensed childcare homes (also known as group daycare homes) provide care in the caregiver's residence for 7-12 children under 14 years old for less than 24 hours a day, but at least two hours a day, three or more days a week.
- Childcare centers (also known as daycare centers) are any operation, that cares for 13 or more children under 14 years old for less than 24 hours, but at least two hours a day, three or more days a week.

- Before and after-school programs provide care before or after the customary school day and during school holidays for at least two hours a day, three days a week, to children who attend pre-kindergarten through grade six.
- School-age programs provide care and supervision, along with recreational or skills instruction or training, before or after the customary school day for at least two hours a day, three or more days a week, to children attending pre-kindergarten through grade six. A school age program may also operate during school holidays, the summer period, or any other time when school is not in session.

24-Hour Residential Child care

- Foster family homes provide 24-hour care for 6 or fewer children under 18 years old. Foster family homes can be verified by a child-placing agency (known as agency foster family homes) or can be independently licensed by CCL (known as independent foster family homes).
- Foster group homes provide 24-hour care for 7 to 12 children under 18 years old. Foster group homes can be verified by a child-placing agency (known as agency foster group homes) or can be independently licensed by CCL (known as independent foster group homes).
- General residential operations provide 24-hour care for 13 or more children under 18 years old and may provide various treatment services, emergency care services, or therapeutic camps. General residential operations include residential treatment centers.
- A child-placing agency is a business that places or plans for the placement of a child in an agency foster or adoptive home that is approved and monitored by the child-placing agency.

Registered Childcare Homes

Registered childcare homes (also known as registered family homes) provide regular care in the caregiver's home for up to six children under age 14 and may also take in up to 6 additional school-age children. Regular care is defined as at least 4 hours per day, 3 or more days a week, for three or more consecutive weeks -or- four hours a day for 40 or more days in a period of 12 months. The number of children allowed in a registered childcare home is determined by the ages of the children. No more than 12 children can be in care at any time, including the caregiver's children.

Anyone wanting to become a registered childcare home provider must complete a pre-application overview or orientation to regulation and be cleared by background checks. CCL issues a registration only after it completes an on-site inspection to ensure the provider is meeting the standards for a registered childcare home. CCL inspects registered childcare homes every 2 years and will conduct an investigation if it gets a report alleging child abuse or neglect, or a violation of licensing statutes, administrative rules, or minimum standards.

Listed Family Homes

Listed family homes provide regular care in the caregiver's home for one to three unrelated children under age 14. Regular care means at least 4 hours per day, 3 or more days a week, for three or more consecutive weeks or four hours a day for 40 or more days in a period of 12 months. Listed family home providers must be at least 18 years old and go through an application process that includes a criminal background check and getting a "listing" permit from CCL in the form of a letter.

Listed family home providers do not have to meet minimum standards or take training. While CCL does not routinely inspect listed family homes, it does investigate them when it gets reports alleging that:

- Children have been abused or neglected.
- The home is providing child care for too many children.
- A caregiver gave a child medication without their parent or guardian's written permission.
- There is immediate risk to the health or safety of a child.

Operations with a Compliance Certificate

Anyone wanting to operate a daycare at a temporary shelter or employer-based daycare facility must complete an application and be cleared by background checks. CCL completes an on-site inspection before issuing the permit to ensure compliance with legal requirements and minimum standards if applicable. While CCL does not routinely inspect operations with a compliance certificate, it does investigate them when it receives a complaint or report of child abuse or neglect.

Temporary Shelter Child Care

These operations provide child care at a temporary shelter, such as a family violence or homeless shelter, at least four hours a day, three or more days a week, to seven or more children under 14 years of age while parents, who live at the shelter, are away.

Persons wanting to operate a temporary shelter childcare operation have to pass criminal background checks and an initial inspection. CCL does not regularly inspect these operations but does investigate allegations of child abuse or neglect or violations of licensing statute, administrative rules, or applicable minimum standards.

Small Employer-based Child Care

Small employer-based childcare operations provide care for up to 12 of the employees' children (under 14 years of age) for less than 24 hours per day. Care is provided on the employer's premises and in the same building where the parents work.

Before CCL issues a compliance certificate, the operation goes through an applications process that includes criminal background checks and an inspection. There are no minimum standards for these operations and they are not inspected after they have their certificate. However, CCL will investigate allegations of child abuse or neglect or a violation of licensing statute or administrative rules.

For more information, see: DFPS Data Book, pages 73-103, 232-243.

Reports on Licensing Violations

CCL uses licensing standards to protect the basic health and safety of children in out-of-home care. Our goal is to appropriately and consistently enforce minimum standards for all types of childcare operations statewide. Consistent enforcement aims to increase compliance by childcare operations and provide stronger protections for children. Regulating childcare facilities and child-placing agencies routinely presents two challenges for CCL staff and permit holders alike:

- Consistent interpretation of minimum standards.
- Consistent enforcement decisions and actions.

CCL analyzes trends in violations both statewide and regionally to get a better idea of the technical assistance providers will need in the future to help them meet or exceed minimum standards.

Violation Trends

The DFPS Data Book includes a Statewide Trends Table for daycare operations. It includes the top 10 standards deficiencies for daycare operations in FY 2013.

For information on statewide trends, see: DFPS Data Book pages 88.

DFPS also publishes a Statewide Trends Table of the top 10 standards deficiencies for residential childcare operations standard violations during FY 2013.

For information on statewide trends, see: DFPS Data Book page 103.

Addressing Violation Trends with Technical Assistance

CCL cites violations in various types of inspections. Some are found during routine monitoring inspections and follow-ups and others after a complaint about specific incidents. CCL makes a point to give childcare providers' technical assistance to help them comply with licensing standards. Violation trends data helps CCL target its technical assistance on specific issues to improve compliance.

Quality Assurance

CCL has a Performance Management Unit (PMU) that analyzes data and identifies trends in CCL's performance. CCL uses this information to develop recommendations for training, program structure, policy, and practice to improve the quality and consistency of inspections and investigations. CCL also has specially trained risk analysts in the field statewide. These analysts and PMU staff review the compliance history of daycare or residential childcare operations that indicates a higher risk of harm to children. They provide objective recommendations to ensure the safety of children. CCL also uses an automated quality assurance and performance management system to obtain measurable feedback on employee casework.

Training

A broad range of CCL staff across the state received over 7,400 hours of training and work-related professional development in FY 2013 to improve the quality of regulation. Topics included effective communication, community engagement, technical assistance, ethics, diversity and disproportionality, and training on automation enhancements. CCL's Professional Development Division also provided additional specialized staff training in the areas of trauma-informed care, playground safety, advanced interviewing techniques, mobile casework, and managing a mobile workforce.

At the same time, CCL staff held more than 153 training events for 4,570 caregivers. Topics included prevention of abuse and neglect, safe sleep practices for infants, positive child discipline and guidance, appropriate supervision of children, updates to minimum standards, directing for success (for new childcare directors), and emergency preparedness. CCL also gave 253 orientation sessions for 2,025 people to give them an overview of the licensing process and how to complete an application and get a permit to operate a childcare operation in Texas.

Child Protective Services

Responsibilities

The responsibilities of Child Protective Services (CPS) are to:

- Conduct civil investigations of reports of child abuse and neglect.
- Protect children from abuse and neglect.
- Promote the safety, integrity, and stability of families.
- Find permanent homes or living arrangements for children who cannot safely remain with their families.

2013 Accomplishments and Program Enhancements

In FY 2013, CPS focused on expanding assistance for families, providing more access to services through public-private partnerships, promoting better outcomes for children in foster care, and delivering additional support for relative caregivers. CPS also advanced efforts to improve permanency for children, increase positive outcomes in domestic violence cases, and prepare youth for adulthood.

Promoting Better Outcomes for Children in Foster Care

Foster Care Redesign

DFPS has been working on a public-private partnership to improve outcomes for children and youth living in foster care since January 2010. In FY 2013, those efforts reached a major milestone when children and youth entering foster care from DFPS Regions 2 and 9 were the first served by the Foster Care Redesign system. Providence Services Corporation of Texas is responsible for finding foster homes or other living arrangements for all children in paid foster care from this area of the state and for getting them the services they need. CPS retains case management and makes the ultimate decisions on placements. Children and youth already in foster care will transition into the new system over time to avoid disrupting their lives. Regions 2 and 9 cover 60 counties and include the communities of Wichita Falls, Abilene, San Angelo, Brownwood, and Midland/Odessa. Also in FY 2013, DFPS posted a request for proposals (RFP) for the first metropolitan area for Foster Care Redesign in the southwestern part of DFPS Region 3. This metropolitan area includes seven counties: Erath, Hood, Johnson, Palo Pinto, Parker, Somervell and Tarrant.

Foster Care Redesign changes how DFPS obtains, contracts, and pays for foster care and other services for children in state care and their families. The goal of Foster Care Redesign is to create ongoing, community-based placements that meet the needs of children and youth in the least restrictive settings. The public-private partnership of foster youth alumni, the judiciary, providers, advocates, and DFPS staff has guided this project.

More information about Foster Care Redesign is available on the Foster Care Redesign webpage.

Expanding Support for Families

Alternative Response

In FY 2013, DFPS ramped up development of a new investigation practice called Alternative Response that changes the way CPS responds to certain allegations of abuse and neglect. This practice allows for a more flexible, family engaging approach while still focusing on the safety of the children. In 2013, the Texas Legislature approved statutory changes and funded technology to give DFPS the ability to develop the Alternative Response system in Texas.

An alternative response involves assessing the needs of families, including the safety of children, and providing services and supports for less serious cases of abuse and neglect involving older children. Unlike a traditional CPS investigation, there will be no formal finding of whether abuse or neglect occurred and family engagement will be a less adversarial, more collaborative approach. Studies from states that use Alternative Response show that child safety is not compromised and that families felt more engaged and involved with decisions about their children. Caseworkers report families on the alternative track were more cooperative and willing to accept services. Initial roll-out of Alternative Response begins in September 2014 and it will be used statewide in two to three years.

Increasing Access to Services with Public-Private Partnerships

Faith-Based Collaboration

CPS recognizes that partnership with community and faith-based agencies is integral to protecting children and expanding services to children and families even after CPS is no longer involved. In FY 2013, CPS substantially increased efforts to collaborate with faith communities and their leaders statewide. Seventy-seven churches are involved with CPS faith-based efforts and that number is expected to grow.

The focus is on empowering churches to develop community ministries to provide new or enhanced support services to children and families. Each church can offer any service or combination of services that range from prevention (i.e. substance abuse programs, financial assistance, transportation, parenting classes) to permanency (i.e. foster care and adoption, support groups, transitional living programs). CPS provides support and technical assistance to the church, such as supplying data, attending meetings, answering questions, providing subject-matter expertise, and other support.

Promoting and Supporting Relative Caregivers

Permanency Care Assistance

The Federal Fostering Connections to Success and Increasing Adoptions Act of 2008 promotes finding permanent homes for children and youth. The federal law stresses adoption, care by relatives, and transition services for young adults who have aged out of care. In response, Texas created the Permanency Care Assistance (PCA) program, which achieved significant success in FY 2013 in finding permanent families for children who would otherwise grow up in foster care.

PCA offers financial help to family members who accept legal responsibility for relative children and youth when going home and adoption are not possible. In order to qualify for the program, kinship caregivers must, among other requirements, become verified as foster parents, care for the child as foster parents for at least six months, enter into a PCA agreement, and obtain legal custody through the courts.

In May 2013, the program crossed the milestone of 1,000 children who have found permanent families through PCA since it began on October 2010. That number grew to 1,318 children by the end of the fiscal year.

Finding Permanency for Children

Permanency Roundtables

CPS began Permanency Roundtables in Regions 6 (Houston) and 8 (San Antonio) in FY 2012, providing internal case consultations to find permanent homes for children in DFPS legal custody. In FY 2013, CPS focused on expanding Permanency Roundtables, completing 731 statewide as of July 2013.

Roundtables bring together agency experts to discuss a child's permanency goal, explore strategies, and develop an action plan for getting each child into a permanent family. Another goal is to make systemic changes, such as policy improvements and community involvement, to help get children into families. Ten percent of children exited DFPS custody into a permanent home within a year of a permanency roundtable. Forty-eight percent of those who did not exit had some other type of improved permanency outcome by: (1) moving into a placement intended to be permanent; (2) achieving a higher permanency status; or (3) making new connections with family or supportive adults.

Improving Outcomes on Domestic Violence Cases

Domestic Violence Multi-Disciplinary Task Force

In 2011, the Texas Legislature passed Senate Bill 434 to create a domestic violence multi-disciplinary task force to improve collaboration between CPS and providers who assist victims of domestic violence. The task force's charge was to: (1) assess best practices for cases involving domestic violence and child abuse/neglect; (2) review policies and practices for the domestic violence and CPS systems; and (3) recommend ways to enhance the CPS and domestic violence service provider systems.

As a result, CPS and stakeholders reviewed policy and practice and created the FBSS Domestic Violence Unit in Bexar County in FY 2013. The unit handles Family based safety service cases that have both child abuse and neglect and domestic violence. The goal is to keep children safe by holding the batterer accountable for domestic violence and helping the adult victim stay safe. CPS and stakeholders also developed specialized cross-training for CPS staff and domestic violence providers to support the work of the unit.

Foster Parents Make a Life-Long Commitment

Twins Michael and Curtis Lewis have found a permanent home with foster parents Anita and Stan Tinney who are thrilled to finally have guardianship of the boys.

With the exception of just a few months, the twins have been in the Tinney's life since 2005. At that time, Michael and Curtis' family members placed them in a nursing home in Odessa. That's where the Tinney's daughters, Bailie (age 16) and Amanda (age 13) who volunteered at the nursing home, first met Michael and Curtis. After meeting the twins and volunteering with them for the first time, they called their parents on the phone, saying "Mom! Dad! There are two little boys at the nursing home and they need us! And we need them!" After hearing this, Anita and Stan who lived in Midland, were compelled to meet them and drove the next day to Odessa to meet them.

Curtis and Michael were 8 years old at the time and weighed only a little over 20 pounds. Michael has cerebral palsy, mental impairments, hip dysplasia, reactive airway disease, seizures and is legally blind. Curtis also has cerebral palsy, mental impairments, reactive airway disease, scoliosis and also is legally blind. Anita and Stan grew very fond of Michael and Curtis and despite these challenges, the Tinneys decided to make a life-long commitment to these remarkable boys.

Over a period of months, Anita, Stan and their two daughters got to work on learning how to get through to the boys who were wary of strangers after two years in the nursing home. During this process, the Tinney family became a registered foster home in hopes that someday they could bring the twins to live with them. Michael and Curtis quickly began to recognize the Tinneys as family. Both would delight when Amanda would sing to them and Bailie made them laugh by dressing up as a clown and other costumes to brighten their days.

Michael and Curtis are now 18 years old. Anita and Stan registered for Home Community Service (HCS) so they could continue to have guardianship of Michael and Curtis into adulthood. The family recently moved and Anita says both young men have adjusted amazingly well to their new home and school. They will be receiving music therapy at Richland High School and they both qualified for hippotherapy (therapeutic horseback riding).

The Tinneys delighted in every milestone the twins reached along their journey to becoming a permanent family. Anita and Stan feel very blessed and love their life with Michael and Curtis.

In the future, CPS will evaluate the outcomes of the unit in terms of enhanced safety for children, adult domestic violence victims, and CPS caseworkers. CPS will also look to enhance its domestic violence work in all stages of service statewide.

Preparing Youth for Adulthood

Supervised Independent Living

DFPS created a Supervised Independent Living (SIL) program. This is a voluntary extended foster care placement for young adults to live in a less restrictive, non-traditional living arrangement while receiving casework and support to become independent and self-sufficient. SIL placements began on May 1, 2013, and 17 young adults were participating in the program as of August 31, 2013. More information is available in the “Youth Transitioning Out of Care” section of this report.

CPS Services to Keep Children Safe

Investigations of Child Abuse and Neglect Reports

State law requires anyone who believes a child is being abused or neglected to report the situation so CPS can investigate. Interviewing children, parents, and others who know about the family is an important part of a CPS investigation. These interviews help determine if abuse or neglect occurred, if children are safe, and assess the risk of further harm. If needed, CPS caseworkers may refer families for services such as individual or family therapy, parenting classes, medical assistance, mental health services, substance abuse assessment and treatment, or programs offering financial assistance for utilities, rent, or childcare.

When CPS caseworkers are concerned about the continued safety of a child, they refer the family for family-based safety services, which are provided in the home and help make sure children are healthy and safe. If these services cannot ensure the child’s safety, CPS may ask the court to remove the child from the parents’ custody and place the child in a relative’s care or foster care.

For more information on CPS investigations and investigation process, see: DFPS Data Book, page 27, example flow chart and pages 387-46 and 138-173.

Family-Based Safety Services

When a child’s safety can be reasonably assured with the parents retaining legal custody, CPS provides in-home services to help stabilize the family and reduce the risk of future abuse or neglect. Family-based safety services (FBSS) can help avoid the need to remove children from their homes. They can also make it possible for the children to return home by strengthening the family’s ability to protect their child and reduce threats to the child’s safety.

Services include family counseling, crisis intervention, parenting classes, substance abuse treatment, domestic violence intervention, and day care. Most children getting these services live at home while CPS works with their families. In some cases, children may live elsewhere temporarily, usually with relatives or close family friends, until it is safe for them to return home.

For more information on in-home services, see: DFPS Data Book, pages 45, 68, 150-153 and 175-180.

Family Group Decision Making

Family Group Decision Making describes various practices to work with and engage children, youth, and families in decision making as well as safety and service planning.

- Family Team Meetings are a rapid response to address critical child safety and placement concerns. CPS uses them to ensure child safety in the earliest stages of a case. These meetings help families, community members, and other caregivers make critical decisions about child protection, safety, placement, and permanent living arrangements.

- Family Group Conferences bring families together with relatives, friends, and others to develop a plan to ensure children are safe, cared for, and protected from future harm. This includes private time to give the family a high degree of decision-making authority and responsibility.

- Circles of Support are youth-focused, youth-driven meetings to develop a plan for older youth to transition from substitute care to adulthood and to connect them to caring adults who will support them. For more information on Circles of Support, see “Youth Transitioning Out of Care” below.

For more information, see: DFPS Data Book, pages 69-70.

Finding Care for Children

Before removing a child from the home, CPS explores every reasonable alternative for keeping the child safe from abuse and neglect. Removing the child occurs only when there is no other reasonable way to protect the child from abuse or neglect in the immediate or short-term future. When children cannot live safely with their own families, CPS may ask the court to remove them from their homes and place them temporarily with relatives, a foster family, an emergency shelter, or other facility.

Placements

When removing a child from a home for safety reasons, CPS and the courts must consider temporary placements with relatives and other people who have a significant relationship with the child or child’s family. CPS asks parents to give contact information for relatives and close family friends who may be able to care for their children. CPS notifies relatives and explains their options and the state support available to help them care for the child. Kinship caregivers may also provide permanent homes by adopting or accepting legal responsibility for children. Kinship care gives children more stability and a connection to family when they cannot live with their birth parents.

For more information on Kinship Care, see: DFPS Data Book, pages 49, 53-54, 61-62, 65, 184-189 and 202-213.

If kinship care is not an option, children may be placed in foster care. Foster families get a daily reimbursement for the costs of caring for children. CPS and foster parents arrange all educational, medical, dental, and therapeutic services the child needs. Some children who have emotional or other needs that are difficult to address in a foster home may live in specialized group homes, residential treatment centers, or other facilities. If parental rights are intact, CPS provides services to the parents until the family is reunited or the courts approve another permanent living arrangement for the children. The court has ongoing oversight while a child is in foster care.

For more information on foster care and other placements: DFPS Data Book, pages 49, 53-54, 63-64 and 223-225.

Permanency

Permanency means a child leaves DFPS care to live in an appropriate, permanent setting. Planning for permanency begins when CPS removes a child from the home and ends when a child leaves DFPS legal custody, preferably for a permanent family setting.

Family reunification is the primary permanency goal for every child in state care (foster care, kinship care, etc.) except when a court decides that is not an option. CPS provides reunification services to families immediately before and after a child returns home from state care.

When a child cannot safely return home, the court may end the parents’ rights, making the child available for adoption. The number of children adopted from CPS care increased significantly from FY 2005 to FY 2013. One major factor was the number of kinship adoptions, which includes adoptions by relatives and others with significant, longstanding relationships with the children or families. Kinship adoptions in Texas have more than doubled since 2005 and now account for about 40 percent of DFPS adoptions. In FY 2013, 5,364 DFPS children were adopted. DFPS approves adoptive homes and also contracts with licensed, private child-placing agencies to increase the number of parents available to adopt children in foster care.

The Texas Adoption Resource Exchange (TARE) website (AdoptChildren.org) is an important tool for recruiting people who may be interested in fostering or adopting. The website's most prominent feature is a photo-listing of Texas children awaiting adoption as well as profiles and videos that give a snapshot of their personalities. TARE also offers a toll-free, nationwide Adoption and Foster Care Inquiry Line. The information from these calls is forwarded to local CPS staff to follow up.

CPS also helps adopted children overcome the abuse or neglect they suffered. These children often need help coping with these experiences and the loss of their birth families. CPS contracts with private agencies to provide post-adoption services to adopted children and their families, such as case management, counseling, crisis intervention, parent training, and support groups.

For more information on adoption, see: DFPS Data Book, pages 49, 53-56, 58-61 and 196-220.

Youth Transitioning Out of Care

CPS is unable to find someone to take permanent custody of a child in some cases. These youth generally stay in DFPS legal custody (conservatorship) until they become a legal adult at age 18. Nonetheless, CPS works to connect these youth with caring adults who have a permanent commitment to the youth and can provide support. Moreover, these youth may stay in foster care until the age of 21 while pursuing an education or employment. CPS provides a variety of services to help these youth learn to live successfully on their own.

Health Care Benefits

Texas provides healthcare to children in foster care and youth who age out of care up to the month of their 21st birthday. These youth get health care through STAR Health, a form of Medicaid. Youth can continue to receive health care benefits up to age 23 in some circumstances but must be enrolled in an institution of higher education. STAR Health includes a medical home for each child, coordination and management of services, 24-hour nursing and behavioral health helplines, and monitoring of psychotropic medication. There is more information on STAR Health, in the "Working with Partners" section of this report.

When a youth who is aging out of DFPS care needs long-term care or support as an adult because they are unable to care for themselves due to a medical, mental, or physical condition, DFPS refers the youth to the Texas Department of Aging and Disability Services (DADS) for guardianship services. This process begins when a youth turns 17. If a court appoints DADS as guardian, DADS assumes the main responsibility for the youth when the youth turns 18 or when the court makes its ruling. DFPS may continue to provide foster care for young adults even if they receive DADS guardianship services.

Preparing Youth for Adulthood

The Preparation for Adult Living (PAL) program helps youth in foster care make the transition to adulthood more successfully. PAL services include independent-living assessments, financial help for a limited time, and training in such areas as financial management, job skills, educational planning, and interpersonal skills. A statewide youth leadership council meets quarterly to review policies and practices, and recommends ways to improve services for children and youth.

CPS provides seminars to youth ages 15½ to 18 in two separate tracks before they leave foster care. The seminars include topics that youth identify to reinforce their knowledge and skills about DFPS programs and services, benefits, and resources. The seminars build on information from PAL life-skills training classes and are presented in a fun and experiential way.

Transition centers are clearinghouses for many DFPS partner agencies to serve youth (ages 15½ to 25) who are preparing to age out or have already aged out of foster care. These centers are separately funded, privately operated, and supported by partnerships between DFPS, their providers, and the Texas Workforce Commission. The centers provide preparation for adult living services, employment readiness, job search classes and assistance, and mentoring. Partner agencies provide other services, including substance abuse counseling, housing assistance, and leadership development trainings and activities. There are centers around the state. More information is available at TexasYouthConnection.org.

The Texas Youth Connection website is a resource for youth in Texas foster care, alumni of foster care, or other youth seeking general tips and information. This website was designed with input from youth and offers information and resources for education, finances, personal records, diversity, health, employment opportunities, food, housing, books, stories, hotlines, contacts and other information. The Texas Youth Connection Facebook page is another way that CPS shares important information with youth, young adults, and providers.

The Texas Youth and Runaway Hotline serves youth younger than 21 years of age, including those who have aged out of the foster care system. The statewide hotline provides crisis counseling, information, and referrals for youth, including assistance in finding local services in their communities.

Extending Foster Care

Most foster youth leave state care after their 18th birthday but they can stay in extended foster care through age 21 or 22, depending on their circumstances, while they pursue a high school diploma or GED. They can also remain in extended foster care:

- To attend college or a vocational or technical training program.
- To participate in a program or activity to help them get a job.
- To work at least 80 hours a month.
- If they can't perform the activities above due to a documented medical condition.

Young adults ages 18 to 20 who have aged out of DFPS care may return to foster care:

- To attend high school or complete a GED course (up to age 22).
- To attend college or a vocational or technical training program.
- To participate in a program or activity to help them get a job.
- To work at least 80 hours a month.
- If they can't perform the activities above due to a documented medical condition.

Supervised independent living (SIL) is where young adults live in a less restrictive, non-traditional living arrangement while continuing to receive casework and support service to help them become independent and self-sufficient. SIL is available for a young adult who is:

- Turning 18 while in DFPS care and approved for extended foster care.
- Already approved and participating in extended foster care.
- Returning for extended foster care from trial independence or afterwards.

Young adults have more responsibilities with minimal supervision in supervised independent living. They manage their own finances, buy groceries and personal items, and work with a landlord. They receive assistance with the transition to independent living, identifying education and employment goals, accessing community resources, life skills training, and establishing relationships.

Education and Training Opportunities

The Education and Training Voucher (ETV) program gives financial assistance to eligible youth before and after they leave CPS care to help them with college expenses such as rent, computers, day care, and transportation. Youth who receive permanency care assistance after age 16 are also eligible. ETV supplements the state's Preparation for Adult Living program, as well as a tuition and fee waiver at state-supported universities, colleges, junior colleges, and vocational schools.

Since 1993, former foster youth and certain adopted youth have been exempt from paying tuition and most fees at state-funded colleges, community colleges, universities, and vocational schools in Texas. The law was later amended to extend this benefit to all youth adopted from DFPS or those whose permanent managing conservator (legal responsibility) is not their parent.

System Support

Disproportionality

In FY 2013, CPS continued efforts to reduce disproportionality in collaboration with the Health and Human Services Commission's Center for Elimination of Disproportionality and Disparities. CPS is working to reduce the disproportionate representation of African-American and Native-American children in the child welfare system. Disproportionality is considered in all CPS initiatives, policies and practices. Since 2004, thousands of youth, community members, staff, providers, and others have participated in training on the issue.

Although the removal rate for African Americans remains higher than other races and ethnicities, CPS is closing the gap. In 2006, the removal rate for African-American children investigated for abuse and neglect was 7.6 percent compared with an Anglo and Hispanic rate of 6.1 percent. By 2012, the African-American removal rate declined to 6.6 percent, while the Anglo and Hispanic rate remained about the same. CPS has also reduced the gap in reunifications. In 2006, the reunification rate for African-American children was 8 percent lower than for Anglos and 11 percent lower than for Hispanics. In 2012, the reunification rate for African-American children was 5 percent lower than Anglos and 9 percent lower than Hispanics.

Fatherhood Initiative

CPS started the Fatherhood Initiative in 2009 to increase permanent living solutions for children in foster care and encourage fathers or paternal family members to get involved in their children's well-being. In FY 2013, the CPS Fatherhood Initiative broadened its impact by working with the Healthy Texas Baby Initiatives to reduce the rate of infant mortality. The Fatherhood Initiative also participated in the Preconception Peer Educator (PPE) Program Planning Committee as well as the Fatherhood Committee, which developed a survey for physicians to gauge their needs related to father involvement shortly before and after birth. In addition, the initiative took part in the creation of a video highlighting the need and value of fathers from pre-conception to birth which demonstrates the importance of improving outcomes for families and children.

Child and Family Services Review

The Child and Family Services Review (CFSR) Accountability Division conducts structured case reviews using a federal review instrument. In FY 2013, the accountability team reviewed 360 Conservatorship and 360 Family Based Safety Services cases. Debriefings were done to share findings and discuss strengths and areas needing improvement. This feedback helps in developing best practices, which improve outcomes for children. It is a learning opportunity that staff say they find helpful.

Trauma-Informed Care

DFPS recognizes that addressing the long-term trauma caused by child abuse and neglect is an important component of effective services. Children, families, caregivers, and the staff who serve them experience the effects of trauma. CPS chartered a multi-disciplinary workgroup to further develop the Texas Child Welfare System into one that recognizes and responds to the impact of trauma on those in the system. The goal is to have a system that accounts for the child's (and family's) story and developmental level, and one that use an evidence-based approach to policies, training, leadership, and service practice. The ultimate goal is to improve outcomes for the children, youth, and families that DFPS serves.

Working with Partners

Foster Parents and Child-Placing Agencies

Thousands of children are in the legal custody (conservatorship) of DFPS because of abuse and neglect. Foster parents and private child-placing agencies help DFPS support these children through collaborative partnerships. DFPS supports foster and adoptive parents by providing federal funds to the statewide Texas Council on Adoptable Children and the Texas Foster Family Association. DFPS also provides federal funds to local foster parent associations for education, training, and retention of foster and adoptive parents so they can better meet the needs of children.

STAR Health

DFPS collaborates with the Texas Health and Human Services Commission to oversee and coordinate healthcare for children in foster care. STAR Health, a Medicaid managed care plan, provides service coordination for each child and service management for children with more serious health and behavioral health needs. It also oversees and reviews psychotropic medications, and provides an electronic health passport, nurse and behavioral health hotlines, and liaisons who are co-housed with CPS staff.

Superior Health Plan operates the provider network. CPS well-being specialists are experts on the STAR Health program and serve as the primary link between Superior Health Plan Network and CPS staff.

Committee for Advancing Residential Practices

The Committee for Advancing Residential Practices is a stakeholder group dedicated to improving practices in residential and foster care. Residential child care contractors, associations, and DFPS representatives meet quarterly to strengthen our partnership, improve communication, and work to improve the safety, permanency and well-being of children.

Child Welfare Boards

Many counties provide additional resources to help Child Protective Services meet the needs of children in state care. There are child welfare boards, appointed by local commissioner's courts, in more than 200 Texas counties that. These boards provide significant support to enhance care and services for foster children and their families and help with child abuse prevention efforts in their communities.

CPS works with the Texas Council of Child Welfare Boards (TCCWB) to develop resources, programs, and strategies to improve services for vulnerable children and families. Members advocate at the local, state and national level for children who otherwise might have no voice. TCCWB volunteers create, promote, and support events such as Child Protection Day at the Capitol and "Go Blue Day to raise awareness about child abuse prevention.

Giving Texas Children Promise

Children across Texas receive help from three innovative community-partners programs developed by Giving Texas Children Promise (GTCP). These programs are Rainbow Rooms, the Adopt-a-Caseworker Program, and the Purchasing Partnership Program.

- Rainbow Rooms help meet the critical needs of abused and neglected children. These resource rooms supply car seats, clothing, shoes, underwear, baby formula, school supplies, and safety and hygiene items to children entering foster or relative care as well as children receiving CPS services at home.

■ The Adopt-a-Caseworker Program connects CPS caseworkers with individuals, churches, businesses, and organizations to help meet needs of children involved with CPS. Groups have also furnished items such as birthday presents, prom dresses, household goods, and groceries.

■ The Purchasing Partnerships Program obtains drastically reduced prices on many essential items stocked in rainbow rooms across Texas. In FY 2013, this program delivered 318 new car seats, 3,493 boxes of lice treatment and bedding spray, 1,000 blankets, and 250 port-a-cribs at no cost to local sites.

There were 192 rainbow rooms and 1,200 adopted caseworkers across Texas in FY 2013. Community partners also worked together to leverage more than $5 million, providing support for approximately 60,000 DFPS children and families.

Children's Commission

The Texas Supreme Court's Permanent Judicial Commission for Children, Youth, and Families published "The Texas Blueprint: Transforming Education Outcomes for Children and Youth in Foster Care", which included more than 100 recommendations. It was the result of an 18-month collaboration with state agencies, school districts, courts, and external and community stakeholders. Many of the recommendations were supported by stakeholders and resulted in laws designed to improve educational outcomes.

The goals listed in the report are to strengthen education stability and improve education outcomes for some 15,000 school-aged children and youth in DFPS legal custody by:

- Reducing the number of times children move to a new school.

- Reducing disciplinary action against children and youth in DFPS custody.
- Helping more children and youth in DFPS legal custody advance to the next grade.

DFPS must also establish and maintain education portfolios for every school-age child and youth in DFPS legal custody. The portfolio contains school-related documentation for school enrollment and educational and ancillary services to ensure student success.

Parent Collaboration Group

The statewide Parent Collaboration Group (PCG) is a partnership between DFPS and parents who have been in the CPS system and succeeded. The group includes regional parent-representatives who meet quarterly to help CPS improve its policies and practices.

The goals are to identify:

- Gaps in services for families and children.
- Services that are working and should continue.
- Ways parents can improve a caseworker's skills in relating to parents.

The group has developed parent-support groups in all CPS regions since its formation in 2002. These support groups help parents learn about the CPS process and navigate the Child Welfare System.

Prevention and Early Intervention

Responsibilities

The responsibilities of Prevention and Early Intervention (PEI) are to:

- Work with Texas communities to develop services to prevent child abuse and neglect, delinquency, running away, and truancy.
- Plan, develop, and administer a comprehensive, unified approach to delivering prevention services to avoid fragmentation and duplication.
- Make prevention and early intervention services more accountable by demonstrating the effectiveness or public benefit of programs.

2013 Accomplishments and Initiatives

Interagency Collaboration

PEI remained the lead for the Interagency Coordinating Council for Building Healthy Families during FY 2013 through a memorandum of understanding adopted by the council's 11 member agencies. Participating agencies meet on an ad hoc basis.

PEI funded the Multidisciplinary Approach to Prevention Services (MAPS) program in FY 2012 and FY 2013 in response to the council's recommendations to the Legislature in 2009. This program helps address the needs of families facing multiple issues such as domestic violence, substance abuse, mental health, and child abuse. An evaluation of the MAPS program is scheduled to be completed in FY 2014. Due to another recommendation, PEI shifted from a cost-reimbursement payment method to a fee-for-service payment structure for a number of prevention programs during FY 2013. The new fee-for-service payment structure achieves greater efficiencies and allows PEI staff to focus more on service quality.

Public Awareness Campaigns

PEI promoted the child abuse prevention campaign called "Help for Parents, Hope for Kids" during FY 2013. The goal of the campaign is to prevent abuse by helping parents deal with the stresses that contribute to child abuse and neglect. The campaign website is featured in both English and Spanish (HelpandHope.org or AyudayEsperanza.org).

In FY 2013 the campaign featured:

- A statewide advertising campaign involving television and online ads.
- A social media campaign on Facebook, Pinterest, and YouTube.
- Video testimonials from parents who had abused or neglected their children and sought help to change.
- Outreach to other organizations to participate by distributing campaign materials or providing services or resources to parents through HelpandHope.org.

The campaign's Facebook page was very successful in sharing ideas and resources designed to strengthen families. The campaign webpages, English and Spanish, were also successful in attracting 408,319 unique visits in FY 2013. Traffic spiked dramatically when television and online ads were shown across Texas. PEI continued these media efforts based on pre- and post-campaign research for 2012, which showed:

- Awareness of the campaign rose by 13 percentage points for single parents and eight percentage points for young mothers, who were the primary target audience.
- Awareness of the website increased five percentage points for all parents, nine percentage points for Hispanic parents, nine percentage points for young mothers, and nine percentage points for single parents.
- Thirteen percent more young moms reported they were likely to change their behavior when stressed out by their children (calm themselves down, stop and think, leave the room, take a walk, etc.).

In FY 2013, PEI also collaborated with DFPS' Child Care Licensing program to promote three campaigns: Baby Room to Breathe, Watch Kids Around Water, and Where's Baby: Look Before You Lock.

- Baby Room to Breathe educates parents about Sudden Infant Death Syndrome (SIDS) and other unexplained infant death. The campaign features a Rules of Safe Sleep DVD in both English and Spanish for use by organizations who work with expectant mothers and families with infants. The video is available on the campaign website (BabyRoomToBreathe.org or BebeEspacioParaRespirar.org) and on the DFPS YouTube channel.

- Watch Kids Around Water aims to prevent childhood drowning. The campaign included news media coverage and agency social media sharing around the Labor Day, Memorial Day, and Independence Day weekends. See: WatchKidsAroundWater.org.
- Where's Baby: Look before You Lock reminds parents and caregivers to check their cars for their infants and young children before locking the cars to prevent hot car deaths.

Child Abuse Prevention Calendar

In FY 2013, DFPS created the sixth annual prevention calendar for Texas families titled "Once Upon a Time Parenting: The Beginning of a Great Story." The calendar gave parents and other caregivers practical advice on dealing with temper tantrums, water safety, developmental milestones, healthy eating tips, and more. The calendar's messages are based on the most effective strategies for prevention outreach. Assessments indicate the best approach is to directly target families with user-friendly outreach materials that give parents tools they can use to strengthen their parenting skills.

PEI distributed 536,000 calendars to about 1,000 agencies, contractors, and partners across Texas, including:

- More than 250 social-service providers.
- Licensed child-care facilities, child welfare boards, and child advocacy centers.
- Elementary and secondary schools and Head Start programs.
- Women, Infants, and Children (WIC) offices in many locations.
- Local churches and medical facilities.

English and Spanish versions of the calendar were made available for free download at HelpandHope.org and AyudayEsperanza.org. The calendar was endorsed by the Texas Pediatric Society, the Texas Chapter of the American Academy of Pediatrics.

Partners in Prevention Training Conference

Each year, DFPS hosts the Annual Partners in Prevention Training Conference. The conference brings together social service professionals, advocates, educators, law enforcement professionals, child-care professionals, community leaders, and faith leaders interested in improving programs and sharing expertise. The multi-day conference is dedicated to child abuse prevention and juvenile delinquency prevention. Related areas of focus include substance abuse prevention, mental health promotion, family violence awareness and early childhood safety. Workshops from the 2013 conference included: Preventing Child Abuse and Family Violence through Teen Relationship Education, Welcoming Diversity; Step Toward Building Inclusive Communities, and Childhood Should Not Hurt; Child Abuse Prevention Programs and Strategies. The annual conference is open to prevention and early intervention agencies that contract with DFPS as well as other prevention service providers and interested parties. PEI planned the conference in collaboration with the Texas Health and Human Services Commission, Texas Department of Assistive and Rehabilitative Services, and Texas Department of State Health Services. About 260 people attended the Partners in Prevention Conference in February 2013.

PEI Services

PEI contracts with community-based agencies and organizations to provide services to prevent the abuse, neglect, delinquency, and truancy of Texas children. Services are voluntary and provided at no cost to participants. However, all services are not available in all Texas communities. To find out if services are available in your community, search for your county on the Prevention and Early Intervention Program Availability website.

For more information, see: DFPS Data Book pages 105-112 and 245-249.

Community Youth Development (CYD)

The CYD program contracts with community-based organizations to develop juvenile-delinquency prevention programs in ZIP codes with high juvenile crime rates for youth ages 6 to 17 (with a focus on youth ages 10 through 17). Communities used approaches to preventing delinquency that included mentoring, youth-employment programs, career preparation, and alternative recreational activities. Communities prioritize and fund specific prevention services according to local needs. CYD services are available in fifteen targeted Texas ZIP codes. In FY 2013, 16,767 youth received services through the CYD program. In addition, each contractor must create or participate in an existing community-based collaborative committee or group to help integrate CYD into the community. Each contractor must also provide youth programs that help youth develop leadership skills.

Services to At-Risk Youth (STAR)

The STAR program contracts with community agencies to offer family crisis-intervention counseling, short-term emergency respite care (temporary relief for those who are caring for at-risk youth) and individual and family counseling. Youth as old as age 17 and their families are eligible if they experience conflict at home, truancy or delinquency, or if a youth runs away from home. STAR services are available in all 254 Texas counties. Each STAR contractor also provides universal child abuse prevention services, ranging from local-media campaigns to informational brochures and parenting classes. In FY 2013, 23,677 youth and 19,150 primary caregivers received services through the STAR program.

Statewide Youth Services Network

These youth-services contracts make community and evidence-based juvenile delinquency prevention programs available to youth ages 6-17 in each DFPS region. In FY 2013, 4,383 clients received services through programs funded by Statewide Youth Services Network.

Texas Families: Together and Safe

Texas Families: Together and Safe is a program that funds evidence-based, community programs to relieve stress and promote parental skills and behaviors that increase the ability of families to be independent and successfully nurture their children. The goals of the program are to:

- Improve and enhance access to family support services.
- Increase the efficiency and effectiveness of community-based family support services.

- Enable children to stay at home by providing preventative services.
- Increase collaboration among local programs, government agencies, and families.

In FY 2013, 1,736 families received services.

Community-Based Child Abuse Prevention

The Community-Based Child Abuse Prevention (CBCAP) program builds community awareness of prevention services, strengthens community and parental involvement in child abuse prevention efforts, and encourages families to use the services available to them. CBCAP funds a variety of community-based organizations to provide child abuse and neglect prevention services. In FY 2013, these programs included Family Support, Respite and Parent Education, Basic Parent Education and Multidisciplinary Approach to Prevention. CBCAP also funds various special initiatives and public awareness campaigns that are noted elsewhere in this report. In FY 2013, 990 families received services through CBCAP funded programs.

Community-Based Family Services

This program serves families who are investigated by CPS but allegations are not confirmed. Services include home visits, case management, and additional social services to promote a safe and stable home environment. In FY 2013, 287 families received services through the Community-Based Family Services program.

2013 Annual Report & Data Book

DFPS 2013 Data Book

The Data Book is a descriptive statistical resource of the services provided to the people of the State of Texas by the Texas Department of Family and Protective Services (DFPS) for fiscal year 2013 (September 1, 2012 through August 31, 2013).

Information in this book covers the most frequently asked statistical questions about DFPS programs. Our hope is that it will be beneficial in answering these questions and serve as a continuous resource.

The Data Book provides information in several types of charts using different time intervals and it provides county, regional, and statewide totals. Due to rounding of calculations, some percentages may not add to 100%.

When comparing data from one time period to another, please keep in mind that DFPS has undergone major changes over time. There have been re-alignments, major policy changes, and automation of case management and reporting that have all influenced the data. In some cases this can make direct comparisons across the years misleading.

Note: The information contained in this printed book is subject to change. For the most recent version please see the online version at http://www.dfps.state.tx.us/About/Data_Books_and_Annual_Reports/default.asp

Note: Clients in validated cases may receive more than one service.

Social Casework - Actions taken by the caseworker to provide assistance to a victim of abuse, neglect or financial exploitation, in such areas as counseling/education, assistance with benefits, and mediation. These actions may include referrals to community organizations that provide direct services to the client.

Other Government Agency - This term is used to describe services that were provided by another government agency. For example, the client was referred to the Social Security Administration, or the Texas Department of Aging and Disability Services in order to resolve abuse, neglect or financial exploitation.

Legal - Legal actions that are taken as a result of Adult Protective Services involvement. An example would be Emergency Order for Protective Services.

APS

Major Provisions

Definitions of abuse and neglect of children

- Mandatory reporting of suspected abuse or neglect of children
- Prepare and disseminate statistics by county relating to CPS in an annual report made available to the legislature and general public
- Responsibility for receiving reports of suspected abuse or neglect of children
- Responsibility for thorough investigation of a report of child abuse or neglect allegedly committed by a person responsible for a child’s care, custody or welfare

- Responsibility to assign priorities and prescribe investigative procedures for investigations based on the severity and immediacy of the alleged harm to the child
- Take action to protect abused and neglected children from further harm
- Establish review teams to evaluate department casework and decision-making related to investigations of child abuse or neglect
- Employ Child Safety Specialists to conduct staff reviews and evaluations of cases determined to involve high risk, monitor cases with multiple referrals, and approve decisions and assessments related to investigations that involve a high risk to the health or safety of a child
- Work with children and their families, providing services to prevent further abuse, help alleviate the effects of the abuse suffered, prevent removal of the child from the home, and provide reunification services when appropriate for the return of the child to the home

- When necessary, secure appropriate court orders and take possession of a child if there is an immediate danger to the physical health or safety of the child or the child has been a victim of neglect or sexual abuse and that continuation in the home would be contrary to the child's welfare
- Make reasonable efforts to secure the return of the child
- Develop a service plan in conference with the child's parents to determine return of the child to the child's parents, termination of parental rights and placement of the child for adoption, or because of the child's special needs or exceptional circumstances continue the child's care out of the child's home
- Provide substitute care for children until the problems have been sufficiently resolved
- Provide permanent placement for children who cannot safely return to their home
- Establish a database of all verified foster homes willing to accept foster care placement of a child in care
- Recruit potential adoptive parents for children whose parents have had their parental rights terminated
- Requirements for frequency and location of contact with children in substitute care
- Requirements for conducting criminal background and central registry checks of foster and adoptive parents

The federal Fostering Connections to Success and Increasing Adoptions Act of 2008, requires DFPS to:

- Provide written notification to maternal and paternal grandparents and other adult relatives regarding a child's removal and placement in state custody and support options
- Ensure youth aging out of state care have a Transition Plan developed within 90 days of turning 18 or the date leaving CPS extended foster care
- Seek to have education stability for children in DFPS custody
- Have a health oversight and coordination plan
- Keep siblings in custody placed together. If this is not possible, the state must provide for frequent visitation or other ongoing interaction between the siblings, unless the state shows frequent visits or other interaction would be contrary to the safety or well-being of any of the siblings
- Make eligibility changes for the Title IV-E adoption assistance program to promote adoption of children with special needs
- Provide information about Adoption Tax Credits during training for adoptive parents

The federal Fostering Connections to Success and Increasing Adoptions Act allows and the Texas Legislature supported:

- Establishing a relative guardianship subsidy program. For Texas, this is a subsidy program called the Permanency Care Assistance program for relatives taking permanent managing conservatorship of a child. This program is intended to provide an additional option for children and youth who might otherwise remain in kinship foster care. It is not intended to be a long term foster care program.
- Allowing youth aging out of care to stay in extended foster care for a variety of reasons until they turn 21.
- Extending adoption assistance benefits and Permanency Care Assistance benefits until the youth turns 21 if the adoption assistance agreement or Permanency Care Assistance agreement was signed after the youth turns 16.
- Authorizing federally recognized tribes to apply for IV-E funding directly.

- Safety Outcome 2: Children are safely maintained in their homes whenever possible and appropriate.

Permanency Outcomes

- Permanency Outcome 1: Children have permanency and stability in their living situations.
- Permanency Outcome 2: The continuity of family relationships and connections is preserved for children.

Well-Being Outcomes

- Well-Being Outcome 1: Families have enhanced capacity to provide for their children's needs.
- Well-Being Outcome 2: Children receive appropriate services to meet their educational needs.
- Well-Being Outcome 3: Children receive adequate services to meet their physical and mental health needs.

Notes About CPS Data

Caseloads

Average daily caseloads are calculated using the methodology set forth by the Legislative Budget Board (LBB). For each type of caseworker, (Investigation, Family-Based Safety Services, Substitute Care, Foster/Adoptive Home Development and Kinship), the LBB methodology counts the number of open stages. Caseworkers may have more than one type of stage on their workload.

Intake and Investigation

An intake or investigation represents a report of abuse or neglect and can involve multiple children.

- The data on completed investigations does not include investigative stages that were administratively closed or merged into another investigation.
- All completed investigations have a case disposition and a risk finding.
- A case disposition reflects the finding on the allegations of abuse or neglect and can include any of the following:
 - Confirmed Investigations
 - Reason to believe – Based on preponderance of evidence, staff concluded that abuse or neglect occurred.

Unconfirmed Investigations

- Ruled out - Staff determined, based on available information, that it is reasonable to conclude that abuse or neglect has not occurred.
 - Unable to complete – Before staff could reach a conclusion, the persons involved in the report moved, could not be located or refused to cooperate.
 - Unable to determine – Staff concluded that none of the other dispositions were appropriate.
- A risk finding reflects whether there is a reasonable likelihood of abuse or neglect in the immediate or foreseeable future. Only those investigations that are identified as risk indicated are eligible to be opened for family preservation or conservatorship services.

Children in DFPS Custody, Substitute Care and Foster Care

- DFPS custody includes all children under the age of 18 over whom DFPS has legal custody, regardless of their placement. This includes children living with relatives, in foster care or on a trial home visit with their parents.
- Substitute care includes all children who are living in a DFPS out of home placement. It does not include children in DFPS custody who are living with their parents on a trial home visit. But unless specifically noted, it does include youth over 18 who are in extended foster care but are not in DFPS custody (because they are legal adults).
- Foster care is a subset of substitute care and includes all children living in a verified foster care placement. It includes children living with relatives who are verified foster parents but does not include children living with relative caregivers who have not been verified as foster parents.
- Paid foster care is a subset of foster care and includes all children living in a verified foster care placement where the state is making foster care payments.

Race and Ethnicity

As recommended by the Health and Human Services Commission (HHSC) to ensure consistency across all HHSC agencies, in 2012 DFPS adopted the HHSC methodology on how to categorize race and ethnicity. As a result, data broken down by race and ethnicity in 2012 and after is not directly comparable to race and ethnicity data in 2011 and before.

Note: When a case is a P2, a formal screening occurs when all alleged victims are age 6 or older and there is not currently an open case. The purpose of the formal screening is to determine if CPS intervention is warranted. There may be P2s that are eligible for formal screening but were not assigned to screeners. A PN is assessed when abuse or neglect is suspected and a key piece of information is needed in order to determine if an assignable allegation exists, or when a situation involves past abuse/neglect. As of Feb. 1 2013, all PNs are being formally screened.

* Care, Custody and Control - In some counties in Texas, this type of custody is given at an Ex Parte Hearing rather than appointing a temporary managing conservator. This provides legal authority for DFPS to ensure a child's safety and meet a child's basic needs for shelter, food, and education.

 Temporary Managing Conservatorship (TMC) - is a court ordered legal relationship between a child and a parent or nonparent. If a judge appoints DFPS as Temporary Managing Conservator, the court will order DFPS to exercise specific rights and duties, which include but are not limited to the right to have physical possession of the child, the duty of care, control, and protection of the child, the right to designate the primary residence of the child, and the right to make decisions concerning the child's health-care and education. Generally, TMC continues for up to 12 to 18 months at which time the judge issues a final order returning the child home, appointing an individual or DFPS as a Permanent Managing Conservator, and/or terminating parental rights thereby making the child eligible for adoption.

 Permanent Managing Conservatorship (PMC) - is the status a court awards to DFPS in a final order. DFPS can be awarded PMC with or without termination of the rights of the child's parents. The rights and duties of a PMC are typically the same as those of the TMC; however, as the PMC, DFPS continues to exercise those rights until the child is adopted, until PMC is transferred to a suitable individual, or the child becomes a legal adult at age 18.

* Possessory Conservatorship - Although uncommon, DFPS may be appointed Possessory Conservator (PC) in certain situations. As PC, DFPS has more limited rights and duties with respect to the child, as enumerated in the court's order naming DFPS as PC.

Title IV-E Foster Care Program Description

The Foster Care Program helps States to provide safe and stable out-of-home care for children until the children are safely returned home, placed permanently with adoptive families or placed in other planned arrangements for permanency. Funds are available for: monthly maintenance payments to eligible foster care providers; administrative costs to manage the program; training staff and foster parents; foster parent recruitment; and other related expenses.

State Paid Foster Care may be funded with Federal Block Grant (TANF)

Family Group Decision Making (FGDM) is a part of the CPS process to be family-centered. The goal is to enhance safety, permanency, and well-being for children by providing direct services and support services to their caregivers, whether biological or through affinity. FGDM describes a variety of practices to work with and engage families in problem solving, including Family Team Meetings (FTM), Family Group Conferences (FGC), and Circles of Support (COS):

- Family Team Meeting (FTM) is designed as a rapid response to child safety and placement concerns, and is used to achieve positive outcomes for children in the earliest stages of interaction between CPS and families.
- Family Group Conference (FGC) is a process where families join with relatives, friends, and others in the community to develop a plan to ensure children are cared for and protected from future harm. This broader constellation of “family” convenes with information providers/community supports and CPS caseworkers in a unique partnership that empowers the “family group” with a high degree of decision-making authority and responsibility.
- Circles of Support (COS) is a youth-focused, youth-driven meeting with the primary purpose of developing a plan for older youth to transition from foster care to adulthood. It may be used for other purposes as well. It includes broader participation of the youth’s support network.

* As recommended by the Health and Human Services Commission (HHSC) to ensure consistency across all HHSC agencies, in 2012, the Department of Family and Protective Services (DFPS) adopted the HHSC methodology on how to categorize race and ethnicity. As a result, data broken down by race/ethnicity in 2012 and after is not directly comparable to race/ethnicity data in 2011 and before.

Preparation for Adult Living (PAL) Services Youth Ages 16 through 20

The Transitional Services Program includes Preparation for Adult Living (PAL) program services to help youth aging out of foster care prepare for adult life, and assist with the initial transition to adult living. PAL services ensure that DFPS foster youth and those aging out of care receive the tools, resources, supports, and personal and community connections they need to become self-sufficient adults. Supportive services and benefits are provided to eligible youth ages 16 to 21, and in some cases up to age 23 for certain educational/vocational needs, to assist when they leave foster care.

Note: 964 youth who were not served in FY 2013 received services prior to FY 2013.

- Take corrective and adverse actions when necessary.
- Offer consultation to potential applicants and permit holders about meeting and maintaining compliance with Licensing standards.
- Educate the general public about choosing regulated child-care and inform them of the child-care options in Texas through media campaigns and by maintaining an online database of child-care providers, including information regarding each operation's compliance history.
- Enforce regulatory requirements for all child-care providers, including illegally operating child-care providers.

Other Programmatic Information: Challenges

- Consistently enforcing adherence to minimum standards across the state.
- Developing cooperative, professional, and effective relationships with child-care operations resulting in increased compliance and stronger protection for children.
- Providing technical assistance to all child care operations, especially focusing on those struggling to maintain compliance with standards.
- Providing thorough, efficient and timely background check results to over a quarter of a million people each year seeking to work in child care, provide foster care or adopt a child.
- Maximizing technology resources to improve the efficiency and effectiveness of regulatory practices and allow licensing staff to become an increasingly mobile workforce.
- Creating standards that protect the health and safety of children in care without impacting the affordability and availability of that care.

- Take corrective and adverse actions when necessary.
- Offer consultation to potential applicants and permit holders about meeting and maintaining compliance with licensing standards.

- Enforce regulatory requirements for all child-care providers, including illegally operating child-care providers.
- Conduct inspections of a random sample of agency foster homes.
- Conduct annual enforcement team conferences to thoroughly review operations.

- Providing thorough, efficient and timely background check results to over a quarter of a million people each year seeking to work in child care, provide foster care or adopt a child.
- Maximizing technology resources to improve the efficiency and effectiveness of regulatory practices and allow licensing staff to become an increasingly mobile workforce.
- Creating standards that protect the health and safety of children in care without impacting the affordability and availability of that care.

Inspections to Exemption Requests are conducted to assess the program to determine if it is exempt from Licensing Regulation.

RCCL inspects agency foster homes for two reasons (1) to conduct an investigation; or (2) to determine whether the CPA managing the foster homes is compliant in its verification, monitoring and management of the foster home and the children in care. Foster home inspections for the latter purpose are periodically selected at random from across the state from the DFPS database for inspection.

* Beginning in FY12 the LBB Performance Measure definition of Inspections does not include Inspections completed as part of an Investigation. The inspection counts are based on the operation type at the time of the inspection.

¹ Operations that are open any time during the fiscal year. Operations may have multiple inspections.

² Beginning FY 2013, Total Number of Operations During Year counts unique operations only. Some operations are counted more than once due to Facility Type changes during the Fiscal Year.

Legal Responsibility for the Division of Prevention and Early Intervention

Federal: Title XX, Social Security Act
Federal: Title IV-B, Part 2, Social Security Act
State: Texas Family Code, 264.301 also Chapter 265 – created through SB1574 below
State: Senate Bill 1574, 76th Legislature
State: Human Resources Code, 40.0561

The Division of Prevention and Early Intervention

(PEI) was created to consolidate prevention and early intervention programs within the jurisdiction of a single state agency. Consolidation of these programs is intended to eliminate fragmentation and duplication of contracted prevention and early intervention services for at-risk children, youth, and families.

- Community Youth Development (CYD)-The CYD program contracts with community-based organizations to develop juvenile delinquency prevention programs in ZIP codes with high juvenile crime rates. Approaches used by communities to prevent delinquency have included mentoring, youth employment programs, career preparation, youth leadership development and recreational activities. Communities prioritize and fund specific prevention services according to local needs. CYD services are available in 15 targeted Texas ZIP codes.
- Services to At-Risk Youth (STAR)-The STAR program contracts with community agencies to offer family crisis intervention counseling, short-term emergency respite care, and individual and family counseling. Youth up to age 17 and their families are eligible if they experience conflict at home, truancy or delinquency, or a youth who runs away from home. STAR services are available in all 254 Texas counties. Each STAR contractor also provides universal child abuse prevention services, ranging from local media campaigns to informational brochures and parenting classes.
- Texas Families: Together and Safe-TFTS funds evidence-based, community-based programs designed to alleviate stress and promote parental competencies and behaviors that increase the ability of families to become self-sufficient and successfully nurture their children. The goals of TFTS are to: improve and enhance access to family support services; increase the efficiency and effectiveness of community-based family support services; enable children to remain in their own homes by providing preventative services, and to increase collaboration among local programs, government agencies, and families.

- Community-Based Child Abuse Prevention- The CBCAP program seeks to increase community awareness of existing prevention services, strengthen community and parental involvement in child abuse prevention efforts, and encourage families to engage in services that are already available. CBCAP funds a variety of contracts with community based organizations to provide child abuse and neglect prevention services. These include the Relief Nursery, Family Support and Rural Family Support programs, as well as various special initiatives and public awareness campaigns.
- Family Strengthening - A variety of Family Strengthening services, available across the state, have been evaluated and proven to effectively increase family protective factors. These services are designed to increase the resiliency of families and prevent child abuse and neglect. Programs must also foster strong community collaboration to provide a continuum of family services. This program was eliminated as a result of budget cuts during the 82nd legislative session.
- Youth Resiliency - Youth Resiliency Programs provide services proven to increase protective factors for youth. A variety of services are available across the state designed to increase youth resiliency and prevent juvenile delinquency. These programs must foster strong community collaboration to provide a continuum of services for participating youth. This program was eliminated as a result of budget cuts during the 82nd legislative session.
- Community Based Family Services - This program serves families who were investigated by CPS but whose allegations were unsubstantiated, through community and evidence-based services. Services include home visitation, case management, and additional social services to provide a safe and stable home environment.

- Tertiary Child Abuse Prevention - Community-based, volunteer-driven prevention, intervention, and aftercare services are provided for children who are or have been, or who are at risk of being, abused and/or neglected. The goals of the program include reducing child maltreatment and the number of families re-entering the Child Protective Services system. Additional goals are to improve the quality and availability of aftercare services for abused children and enhance a statewide network of tertiary child abuse prevention programs.
- Statewide Youth Services Network- The Statewide Youth Services Network contracts provide community and evidence-based juvenile delinquency prevention programs focused on youth ages 10 through 17, in each DFPS region.

- Texas Youth and Runaway Hotlines-The toll-free Texas Runaway Hotline and the Texas Youth Hotline offer crisis intervention, telephone counseling, and referrals to troubled youth and families. Volunteers answer the phones and interact with callers facing a variety of problems including family conflict, delinquency, truancy, and abuse and neglect issues. The program increases public awareness through media efforts that may include television, radio, billboards and other printed materials.

Population Data Source: Texas State Data Center, University of Texas (San Antonio). Based on Census 2010 data.

* As recommended by the Health and Human Services Commission (HHSC) to ensure consistency across all HHSC agencies, in 2012, the Department of Family and Protective Services (DFPS) adopted the HHSC methodology on how to categorize race and ethnicity. As a result, data broken down by race/ethnicity in 2012 and after is not directly comparable to race/ethnicity data in 2011 and before.

 Other includes anyone not categorized as African American, Anglo, Hispanic or Native American

* As recommended by the Health and Human Services Commission (HHSC) to ensure consistency across all HHSC agencies, in 2012, the Department of Family and Protective Services (DFPS) adopted the HHSC methodology on how to categorize race and ethnicity. As a result, data broken down by race/ethnicity in 2012 and after is not directly comparable to race/ethnicity data in 2011 and before.

 Other includes anyone not categorized as African American, Anglo, Hispanic or Native American

Note: Includes removals from all stages of service.

* As recommended by the Health and Human Services Commission (HHSC) to ensure consistency across all HHSC agencies, in 2012, the Department of Family and Protective Services (DFPS) adopted the HHSC methodology on how to categorize race and ethnicity. As a result, data broken down by race/ethnicity in 2012 and after is not directly comparable to race/ethnicity data in 2011 and before.

 Other includes anyone not categorized as African American, Anglo, Hispanic or Native American

* "Waiting for Adoption" means children who are legally free for adoption and not yet in an adoptive placement.

 As recommended by the Health and Human Services Commission (HHSC) to ensure consistency across all HHSC agencies, in 2012, the Department of Family and Protective Services (DFPS) adopted the HHSC methodology on how to categorize race and ethnicity. As a result, data broken down by race/ethnicity in 2012 and after is not directly comparable to race/ethnicity data in 2011 and before.

 Other includes anyone not categorized as African American, Anglo, Hispanic or Native American

Adult Protective Services' priorities are based on the degree of severity and immediacy of the alleged harm to the individual.

Priority I - APS reports that allege the victim is in a state of serious harm or is in danger of death from abuse or neglect. The caseworker must attempt a face-to-face visit with the alleged victim within 24 hours of the department's receipt of a Priority I report, which may include, but is not limited to, the following:

1. Serious injuries. Examples: spinal injury, fractured ribs puncturing lung, head injury, severe burns, broken hip, internal injuries.
2. Lack of life-sustaining medication.
3. Serious threats by caretaker to harm or kill alleged victim.
4. Lack of basic physical necessities severe enough to result in freezing, starvation, or dehydration.
5. Need for immediate medical attention to treat conditions that could result in irreversible physical harm, Examples: unconsciousness, acute pain, severe respiratory distress, gangrene, hemorrhaging, severe malnutrition, advanced bedsores.
6. Sexual abuse when there is danger of repeated abuse.

7. No caretaker is available; the alleged victim is unable to perform critical personal care activities, and his or her needs cannot be met by other community resources.
8. Living conditions that pose a serious health or safety hazard. Examples: fecal contamination, dead animals, major structural damage to residence

Priority II - APS reports that allege the victim is abused, neglected, or financially exploited and as a result is at risk of serious harm. The caseworker must attempt a face-to-face visit with the alleged victim within three calendar days of the department's receipt of a Priority II report. Priority II reports may include, but are not limited to, the following:

1. Critical need for mental health or medical treatment. Examples: overly aggressive behavior, pressure spots, small bedsores or other small but open wounds, malnutrition, sprains, or disease or illness that is acute but not life-threatening.

3. Inadequate attention to physical needs. Examples: insufficient food or medicine, but not life-threatening.
4. Illegal or improper use of alleged victim's income or resources to the degree that the alleged victim is unable to meet basic needs or is threatened with substantial loss of income or resources.
5. Unreasonable confinement.
6. Sexual abuse of the alleged victim by the caretaker, but clearly no immediate danger of repeated abuse.
7. Threats of physical violence or harm to the alleged victim.
8. Imminent eviction from a nursing home because the alleged victim's representative failed to use the alleged victim's income to pay for care.
9. Threat of losing the caretaker's services when the alleged victim is dependent on the caretaker for basic needs.

Priority III - Consists of all other APS reports that allege the victim is in a state of abuse or neglect. The caseworker must attempt a face-to-face visit with the alleged victim within seven calendar days of the department's receipt of a Priority III report. Priority III reports may include, but are not limited to, the following:

1. Verbal or emotional abuse. Examples: harassment, cursing, degrading remarks, intimidation.
2. Marginal care or threatened withdrawal of care by caretaker when the alleged victim needs some assistance with his or her basic activities of daily living.

4. Need for mental health or medical treatment that is not urgent. Examples: mild depression, delusional thinking that is not dangerous to the alleged victim or others, poor nutrition, or disease or illness that is not acute.

Priority IV - APS reports that allege financial exploitation when there is no danger of imminent impoverishment or deprivation of basic needs. The caseworker must attempt a face-to-face visit with the alleged victim within 14 calendar days from the date the department receives a Priority IV report. Priority IV reports may include, but are not limited to, the following:

1. Lack of appropriate contribution to food and shelter expenses by household members.

abuse, serious physical abuse injury, serious verbal or emotional abuse, or incitement to harm self or others. The investigator must attempt a face-to-face contact with the alleged victim within 24 hours of receipt of the report by the department.

Priority II reports include, but are not limited to, the following: non-serious physical injury, non-serious verbal/emotional abuse, and/or exploitation. Investigations in SSLCs and the ICF-IID component of the Rio Grande State Center can only be PI or PII.

CPS Abuse and Neglect Dispositions-The principal governing legislation for CPS investigations is Chapter 261 of the Texas Family Code (TFC). The TFC definitions of abuse or neglect investigated by CPS are:

Physical Abuse - Physical injury that results in substantial harm to the child, or the genuine threat of substantial harm from physical injury to the child, including an injury that is at variance with the history or explanation given and excluding an accident or reasonable discipline by a parent, guardian, or managing or possessory conservator that does not expose the child to a substantial risk of harm; failure to make a reasonable effort to prevent an action by another person that results in physical injury that results in substantial harm to the child; the current use by a person of a controlled substance as defined by Chapter 481, Health and Safety Code, in a manner or to the extent that the use results in physical injury to a child; or causing, expressly permitting, or encouraging a child to use a controlled substance as defined by Chapter 481, Health and Safety Code.

Sexual Abuse - Sexual conduct harmful to a child's mental, emotional, or physical welfare, including conduct that constitutes the offense of indecency with a child under Section 21.11, Penal Code, sexual assault under Section 22.011, Penal Code, or aggravated sexual assault under Section 22.021, Penal Code; failure to make a reasonable effort to prevent sexual conduct harmful to a child; compelling or encouraging a child to engage in sexual conduct as defined by Section 43.01, Penal Code; causing, permitting, encouraging, engaging in, or allowing the photographing, filming, or depicting of the child if the person knew or should have known that the resulting photograph, film, or depiction of the child is obscene (as defined by the Penal Code) or pornographic; or causing, permitting, encouraging, engaging in, or allowing a sexual performance by a child as defined by 43.25, Penal Code.

Emotional Abuse - Mental or emotional injury to a child that results in an observable and material impairment in the child's growth, development, or psychological functioning; causing or permitting the child to be in a situation in which the child sustains a mental or emotional injury that results in an observable and material impairment in the child's growth, development, or psychological functioning; or the current use by a person of a controlled substance as defined by Chapter 481, Health and Safety Code, in a manner or to the extent that the use results in mental, or emotional injury to a child.

Neglectful Supervision - Placing the child in or failing to remove the child from a situation that a reasonable person would realize requires judgment or actions beyond the child's level of maturity, physical condition, or mental abilities and that results in bodily injury or a substantial risk of immediate harm to the child; or placing a child in or failing to remove the child from a situation in which the child would be exposed to a substantial risk of sexual conduct harmful to the child.

Medical Neglect - Failing to seek, obtain, or follow through with medical care for a child, with the failure resulting in or presenting a substantial risk of death, disfigurement, or bodily injury or with the failure resulting in an observable and material impairment to the growth, development, or functioning of the child.

Physical Neglect - Failure to provide the child with food, clothing, or shelter necessary to sustain the life or health of the child, excluding failure caused primarily by financial inability unless relief services had been offered and refused.

Refusal to Assume Parental Responsibility - Failure by the person responsible for a child's care, custody, or welfare to permit the child to return to the child's home without arranging for the necessary care for the child after the child has been absent from the home for any reason, including having been in residential placement or having run away.

Abandonment - The leaving of a child in a situation where the child would be exposed to a substantial risk of physical or mental harm, without arranging for necessary care for the child, and a demonstration of an intent not to return by a parent, guardian, or managing or possessory conservator of the child.

Children in Foster Care - All children in DFPS' legal responsibility who are in a placement paid by DFPS or other public facility. These placements include foster homes, foster group homes, institutions, residential treatment facilities, and juvenile facilities. This is a subset of Children in Substitute Care.

Children in Substitute Care - Children in Substitute Care - Children under 18 years of age in DFPS' legal responsibility who are removed and placed outside their own home (home of origin). This includes foster homes, institutions, foster group homes, residential treatment facilities, hospitals, adoptive homes, juvenile facilities, kinship care placements, and independent living arrangements. Also included are the youth who age out of DFPS' legal responsibility and continue in foster care placements to complete vocational training by age 19 or to graduate from high school before they turn 22 years old.

Kinship care- The term used to describe those situations in which children, who are no longer able to live with their own parents, are cared for by relatives or other people known as "fictive kin" that have a significant relationship with the child or the child's family, such as a godparent or family friend.

Verified Kinship Caregiver (Foster Parent) - A verified kinship caregiver is licensed or verified as a foster parent to provide 24-hour residential care for a child, in accordance with Chapter 42 of the Human Resources Code and related regulations. Verification as a foster parent is offered by either DFPS through the CPS Foster and Adoptive Home Development program (FAD); or a private child-placing agency.

Children in the Legal Responsibility of the Texas Department of Family and Protective Services - All children for whom the courts have appointed the Texas Department of Family and Protective Services legal responsibility by temporary or permanent managing conservatorship or other court ordered legal basis. These children may be residing in an out-of-home placement or may have been returned to their own home (home of origin). When there is an immediate danger to the physical health or safety of a child, the Texas Family Code(TFC) provides three options for intervention by DFPS into a family: (1) emergency removal of the child from the home prior to obtaining a court order; (2) removal of the child after obtaining an ex parte order; or, (3) removal of the child after notice and hearing. Within 14 days from the date the child is taken into possession, a Full Adversary Hearing is held at which time the child is either returned home or if there is a continuing danger, temporary orders for managing conservatorship are issued. Within 12 months from the order appointing DFPS as the child's temporary managing conservator, the court must either return the child to the parent and dismiss the suit, appoint a parent, relative, or DFPS as managing conservator on a permanent basis, or grant a one-time extension of the lawsuit, not to exceed 180 days.

CPS Investigations of Child Abuse and Neglect - The agency is required by state law to conduct civil investigations of reports of suspected child abuse or neglect. The objectives of the investigation are to ensure child safety, determine whether abuse or neglect occurred, determine whether children are at risk for abuse or neglect in the future, provide child or family needed safety services and refer the family to services available in the community, if needed. At the conclusion of the investigation, staff must assign a disposition to each allegation to specify conclusion regarding the occurrence of abuse or neglect. The dispositions that staff must use are: Reason to Believe, Ruled Out, Unable to Complete, or Unable to Determine.

Intake Priorities - To establish time frames for investigations, CPS assigns each report of child abuse and neglect to one of two priority groups. The level of identified risk and child safety concerns determine the priority assigned. Initial assessment regarding the immediacy of risk and severity of harm to the child are based on information provided by the reporter and other available information about the alleged perpetrators, child vulnerability, prior history, specific nature of the harm, and whether the harm has occurred.

The two priority groups are as follows:

Priority I - Intake reports that concern children who appear to face an immediate risk of abuse or neglect that could result in death or serious harm. CPS must initiate the investigation within 24 hours of receiving a Priority I report.

Priority II - All reports of abuse or neglect that are not assigned as Priority I are assigned as Priority II. These are reports that contain allegations of abuse or neglect in which there does not appear to be an immediate threat of serious harm or death. CPS must initiate the investigation within 72 hours of receiving a Priority II report. The initial priority may be changed if information gathered during the intake stage indicates that the abuse or neglect is either more or less serious than originally reported.

Service Level - DFPS seeks to place each child in the department's conservatorship with a foster caregiver who is well qualified to meet the child's needs. To achieve this, the department participates in a statewide system for classifying the needs of children and the capabilities of foster caregivers in four Service Levels:

a) What is the description of the Basic Service Level?

The Basic Service Level consists of a supportive setting, preferably in a family, that is designed to maintain or improve the child's functioning, including:

- (1) routine guidance and supervision to ensure the child's safety and sense of security;
- (2) affection, reassurance, and involvement in activities appropriate to the child's age and development to promote the child's well-being;
- (3) contact, in a manner that is deemed in the best interest of the child, with family members and other persons significant to the child to maintain a sense of identity and culture; and
- (4) access to therapeutic, habilitative, and medical intervention and guidance from professionals or paraprofessionals, on an as-needed basis, to help the child maintain functioning appropriate to the child's age and development.

b) What is the description of the Moderate Service Level?

- (a) The Moderate Service Level consists of a structured supportive setting, preferably in a family, in which most activities are designed to improve the child's functioning including:
 - (1) more than routine guidance and supervision to ensure the child's safety and sense of security;
 - (2) affection, reassurance, and involvement in structured activities appropriate to the child's age and development to promote the child's well-being;
 - (3) contact, in a manner that is deemed in the best interest of the child, with family members and other persons significant to the child to maintain a sense of identity and culture; and
 - (4) access to therapeutic, habilitative, and medical intervention and guidance from professionals or paraprofessionals to help the child attain or maintain functioning appropriate to the child's age and development.
- (b) In addition to the description in subsection (a) of this section, a child with primary medical or habilitative needs may require intermittent interventions from a skilled caregiver who has demonstrated competence.

c) What is the description of the Specialized Service Level?

- (a) The Specialized Service Level consists of a treatment setting, preferably in a family, in which caregivers have specialized training to provide therapeutic, habilitative, and medical support and interventions including -
 - (1) 24-hour supervision to ensure the child's safety and sense of security, which includes close monitoring and increased limit setting;
 - (2) affection, reassurance, and involvement in therapeutic activities appropriate to the child's age and development to promote the child's well-being;
 - (3) contact, in a manner that is deemed in the best interest of the child, with family members and other persons significant to the child to maintain a sense of identity and culture; and
 - (4) therapeutic, habilitative, and medical intervention and guidance that is regularly scheduled and professionally designed and supervised to help the child attain functioning appropriate to the child's age and development.
- (b) In addition to the description in subsection (a) of this section, a child with primary medical or habilitative needs may require regular interventions from a caregiver who has demonstrated competence.

d) What is the description of the Intense Service Level?

- (a) The Intense Service Level consists of a high degree of structure, preferably in a family, to limit the child's access to environments as necessary to protect the child. The caregivers have specialized training to provide intense therapeutic and habilitative supports and interventions with limited outside access, including -

- (1) 24-hour supervision to ensure the child's safety and sense of security, which includes frequent one-to-one monitoring with the ability to provide immediate on-site response.
 - (2) affection, reassurance, and involvement in therapeutic activities appropriate to the child's age and development to promote the child's well-being;
 - (3) contact, in a manner that is deemed in the best interest of the child, with family members and other persons significant to the child, to maintain a sense of identity and culture;
 - (4) therapeutic, habilitative, and medical intervention and guidance that is frequently scheduled and professionally designed and supervised to help the child attain functioning more appropriate to the child's age and development; and
 - (5) consistent and frequent attention, direction, and assistance to help the child attain stabilization and connect appropriately with the child's environment.
- (b) In addition to the description in subsection (a) of this section, a child with developmental delays or intellectual disabilities needs professionally directed, designed and monitored interventions to enhance mobility, communication, sensory, motor, and cognitive development, and self-help skills.
- (c) In addition to the description in subsection (a) of this section, a child with primary medical or habilitative needs requires frequent and consistent interventions. The child may be dependent on people or technology for accommodation and require interventions designed, monitored, or approved by an appropriately constituted interdisciplinary team.

Permanency Goal Definitions - Permanency goals for children must be one of the following:

- 1) Family Preservation - identifies a child's own home as the safe and permanent living situation toward which CPS services are directed, without removing the child from the home.
- 2) Family Reunification - identifies that the child was removed from his or her home and that with CPS assistance, the family appears able and willing to reduce the risk of abuse or neglect enough for the child to return home and live there safely for the foreseeable future.
- 3) Alternative Family Placement with Long Term Commitment - indicates that the child has been removed from the home, family reunification is not appropriate, and a family has been found or is being sought as follows:
 - (A) adoption and care by a relative;
 - (B) permanent conservatorship and care by a relative;
 - (C) adoption and care by an unrelated family;
 - (D) permanent conservatorship and care by an unrelated family;
 - (E) care by a foster family with DFPS having permanent conservatorship;
 - (F) care in some other family arrangement with DFPS having permanent conservatorship;
- 4) Another Planned Living Arrangement with Support of a Family - indicates that the youth has been removed from the home, family reunification or another higher ranking permanency goal is not appropriate, and CPS will provide services directed toward:
 - (A) preparation for independent living, for youth who are at least 16 years old and have no developmental disability; or
 - (B) preparation for adult living with community assistance in the most integrated setting, for youth who are at least 18 years old and who have a developmental disability.

Recidivism - Refers to the re-occurrence of child abuse or neglect involving confirmed victims where the second incidence occurs within six months of the first incidence.

Reports of Child Abuse and Neglect - The agency receives many reports of children who are in situations that are not optimal for their growth or development, but do not appear to involve child abuse or neglect as defined by law. Only the reports that appear to meet the statutory definition of abuse or neglect are required by state law to be investigated by the agency.

Risk Assessment of Child Abuse/Neglect - CPS workers investigate allegations of abuse and neglect and make assessments regarding risk. The terms “at risk” and “not at risk” are conclusions regarding whether there is a reasonable likelihood that the child will be abused or neglected in the foreseeable future. The decision to provide services is based on the assessment of risk, not on the disposition of the allegations. Risk assessment is a casework process in which the worker explores individual and family functioning associated with the recurrence of abuse or neglect, and individual and family strengths and resources associated with protective capacities. There are four possible risk findings:

- No Significant Risk Factors - No significant risk factors were identified in the family’s current situation or history.
- Risk Factors Controlled - Risk factors were identified; however, family strengths and available resources are sufficient to provide for the safety of the child without CPS assistance.
- Risk Indicated - Risk factors were identified, and there are not sufficient family strengths and available resources to manage the risk conditions without CPS assistance.
- Risk Assessment Not Applicable- This finding is documented if the investigation involved school personnel or an only child who died, or the investigation was administratively closed or given a disposition of “unable to complete”.

By using a risk-based system for provision of services, CPS is able to identify children in need of protection and direct its resources to those most in need. Child Care Licensing Program.

Child Care Licensing Program

Abuse - An intentional, knowing, or reckless act or omission by someone working under the auspices of an operation that causes or may cause emotional harm or physical injury to, or the death of, a child served by the operation. See the Texas Family Code, §261.401(a)(1) and DFPS Rules, 40 TAC, §§745.8553 745.8557.

Administrative Review - An informal review meant to give certain individuals or operations the opportunity to dispute a specific Licensing decision or action.

Adverse Actions - A type of remedial action that Licensing may impose to address a deficiency. This action may require closure of an operation or the addition of permanent restrictions or conditions to a permit. The four types of adverse actions are - denial, adverse amendment, suspension, and revocation.

Application Process - The application process for licensed and registered operations involves a pre-application interview, inquiry meeting, or orientation; the submission of the application materials; public notice and hearing requirements for residential child-care operations; reviewing the application for compliance with minimum standards, rules and statutes; accepting the application as completed or returning it if incomplete; and the decision to issue or deny. Listed homes are not required to attend a pre-application interview or orientation.

Background Checks - Searches of different databases that are conducted on an individual. There are three types of background checks: criminal history checks conducted by the Department of Public Safety for crimes committed in the State of Texas, criminal history checks conducted by the FBI for crimes committed anywhere in the U.S., and central registry checks conducted by DFPS. The central registry is a database of people who have been found by Child Protective Services, Adult Protective Services, or Licensing to have abused or neglected a child or vulnerable adult. Background checks are conducted on child care providers, foster and adoptive parents (and their household members), and child-placing staff. Background checks are also conducted on employees at licensed operations as well as at registered and listed family homes. Rules are in place to dictate which types of background checks are required of each person. For more information about these requirements, see 40 Texas Administrative Code §§.745.615.

Before or After-school Program - A type of licensed center that provides care before or after or before and after the customary school day and during school holidays, for at least two hours a day, three days a week, to children who attend pre-kindergarten through grade six.

Branch Office - Office space used by a child-placing agency (CPA) separate from the main office or Texas headquarters for the CPA. Capacity - The maximum number of children that a permit holder may care for at one time.

Care Types - The type of care offered by a licensed center or general residential operation based on the months, days, and hours of operation, the ages of the children in care, or the services provided. Care types for Licensed Centers include Child Care Program, Before or After School Program, and School Age Program. Care types for General Residential Operations include Child Care Services Only, Emergency Care Services Only, Multiple Services, or Residential Treatment Center. This information reflects the law that was in effect through August 31, 2011.

Child Care Licensing Law - Chapter 42 of the Human Resources Code.

Child-Placing Agency (CPA) - A person, including an organization, other than the parents of a child who plans for the placement of or places a child in a child-care operation, foster home or adoptive home. A CPA is a licensed residential child-care operation that verifies and regulates its own foster homes and approves adoptive homes subject to DFPS minimum standard rules.

Child-Placing Agency Administrator - A person who supervises and exercises direct control over a child-placing agency and who is responsible for the operation's program and personnel, regardless of whether he or she has an ownership interest in the operation or shares duties with anyone.

CLASS - Child Care Licensing Automation Support System. A case-management computer application used by DFPS licensing staff and is the system of record for many licensing activities.

Complete Application - A packet of materials submitted by an applicant that contains all of the documentation required to apply for a permit.

Corrective Action - A type of remedial action that Licensing may impose to help an operation improve compliance without requiring it to close. The two types of corrective actions include evaluation and probation. Corrective actions are not imposed on listed family homes.

CPA Adoptive Home - A person or persons approved by a CPA to adopt a child or children.

CPA Foster Family Home - A home verified by a child-placing agency to provide care for six or fewer children up to the age of 18 years. CPA Foster Group Home - A home verified by a child-placing agency to provide care for seven to 12 children up to the age of 18 years. The child-placing agency issues verifications, inspects, and may investigate its homes to ensure compliance with minimum standards. Also known as an agency foster group home.

Enforcement Team Conferences also began for residential treatment centers starting in fiscal year 2011.

Evaluation - A type of corrective action in which a corrective action plan is imposed that may include conditions beyond the minimum standard rules and the basic permit requirements. During the evaluation period, inspections are conducted more frequently to assist the operation in meeting conditions, improving compliance, and assessing risk to children in care.

Exempt from Regulation - Certain facilities or programs can operate legally without receiving a permit from Licensing. A facility or program exempt from regulation is not required to comply with Licensing's statutes and rules.

Follow-Up Inspection - Inspections that include evaluating individual standards, conditions, or restrictions, rather than evaluating an entire subchapter of minimum standards

Foster Family Home (Independent) - A licensed operation that provides residential child-care for six or fewer children up to the age of 18 years. An independent foster family home is not affiliated with a CPA but is monitored and regulated directly by the DFPS Licensing Division. See CPA foster family home for a home verified (monitored and regulated) by a child-placing agency (CPA).

Foster Group Home (Independent) - A licensed operation that provides residential care for seven to 12 children up to the age of 18 years. An independent foster group home is not affiliated with a CPA but is monitored and regulated directly by the DFPS Licensing Division. See CPA foster group home for a home verified (monitored and regulated) by a child-placing agency (CPA).

General Residential Operation - A residential child-care operation that provides child care for 13 or more children under age 18 and may provide various treatment services or programmatic services. Residential Treatment Centers, a subset of general residential operations, provide care exclusively for children requiring treatment services for emotional disorders.

Investigation - An action conducted by licensing staff when a report is received alleging a violation of the minimum standards/law or abuse/neglect. An investigation is conducted to determine the validity of the allegations and to ensure the protection of children in care.

Investigation Inspection - Inspections that include the investigation of reports alleging abuse, neglect, violation of the law, violations of administrative rule, minimum standard rules, or a combination of these Issuance - The Licensing division issues a permit to an operation after it determines that an operation or home has met minimum standards and is approved to operate as a child-care operation.

Licensed Child-Care Center - An operation providing care for seven or more children under age 14 for less than 24 hours per day at a location other than the permit holder's home. A licensed center may also be referred to as a day-care center and includes the care types Child Care Program, Before or After-School Program, School-Age Program, and Temporary Shelter Program.

Licensed Child-Care Home - A child day-care operation that is licensed. The primary caregiver provides care in the caregiver's own residence for children from birth through age 13. The total number of children in care varies with the ages of the children, but the total number of children in care at any given time, including the children related to the caregiver, must not exceed 12.

Listed Family Home - Listed Family Homes provide child care on a regular basis (at least 4 hours per day, 3 or more days a week, for 3 or more consecutive weeks) for one to three unrelated children. The total number of children in care at any given time, including the children related to the caregiver, must not exceed 12. Care is provided in the caregiver's home. Providers are required to go through an application process that includes a criminal background check and issuance of a certificate. Listed family home providers must be at least 18 years old. However, there are no orientation classes or training requirements for listed family homes. Until 9/1/2011, listed family homes currently were not routinely inspected; however, reports alleging more than 3 children are in care or reports alleging abuse or neglect of children in care were investigated by CCL.

Maternity Home - A licensed operation that provides care for four or more minor and/or adult women and their children during pregnancy and/or during the six-week postpartum period. Senate Bill 1178 (82nd Legislature) made changes to the statutes to delete references to and definitions of maternity homes as a facility licensed and regulated by the Department of Family and Protective Services. This was effective 9/1/2012.

Minimum Standard Rules - The rules from Title 40 of the Texas Administrative Code which serve as the minimum requirements that a permit holder must meet to maintain their permit and which are enforced by DFPS to protect the health, safety, and well-being of children. These include all rules in 40 TAC Chapters 727, 743, 744, 746, 747, 748, 749, and 750.

Monitoring Frequency - The interval between routine inspections at a child-care operation. The Licensing division determines how frequently to inspect an operation based on risk assessment factors focused on the health, safety, and well-being of children in care.

Monitoring Inspection - Inspections that include evaluation of at least one entire subchapter of the applicable minimum standards and may include evaluation of additional individual laws, administrative rules, or minimum standard rules, or any conditions or restrictions.

Neglect - Neglect is an act or omission that constitutes a breach of a duty by a person working under the auspices of an operation that causes or may cause substantial emotional harm or substantial physical injury to a child. Operation - A person or entity offering a program that may be subject to regulation by Child Care Licensing. An operation includes the building and grounds where the program is offered, any person involved in providing the program, and any equipment used in providing the program. The term “operation” is used to refer to any entity providing child care and is usually accompanied by a qualifier to describe the type of care being referenced (for example, “illegal operation” or “daycare operation”).

Other Inspection - Inspections conducted for purposes other than determining compliance with pre-identified minimum standards.

Permit - A license, certificate, registration, listing or any other written authorization granted by Licensing to operate a child-care facility, child-placing agency, general residential operation, listed family home, registered home or maternity home. This also includes a Licensed Administrator’s permit.

Probation - A type of corrective action in which Licensing imposes a corrective action plan that is more restrictive and intense than an evaluation corrective action plan. It may include conditions beyond the requirements of the minimum standards and the basic permit requirements. During the probationary period, inspections are conducted more frequently to assist the operation in meeting conditions, improving compliance, and assessing risk to children in care.

Provider - A person or entity associated with an operation. This term generally implies a degree of responsibility for the operation, and refers to applicants, operations that are subject to regulation, or permit holders.

Registered Child-Care Home - Registered Child Care Homes provide care in the caregiver’s home for up to 6 children under age 14, and may also take in six additional school-aged children before and/or after the customary school day. The number of children allowed in a home is determined by the ages of the children. No more than 12 children can be in care at any time, including children of the caregiver. The application process requires that a provider complete an orientation class and receive clearances on background checks. A registration certificate is issued after CCL staff completes an on-site inspection to ensure the provider is meeting minimum standards. Registered homes are inspected by CCL at least once every 2 years or if a report is received related to child abuse/neglect or standards violations.

Remedial Actions - An action Licensing may impose if an operation is deficient in a minimum standard, rule, law, a specific term associated with the operation’s permit, or a condition of evaluation, probation, or suspension. There are four types of remedial actions: corrective, adverse, judicial, and monetary.

Report - An expression of dissatisfaction or concern about an operation, made known to DFPS staff, that alleges a possible violation of minimum standards, rules, law, or abuse/neglect, and that involves potential risk to a child or children in care.

Reporter - The person who reports to DFPS an expression of dissatisfaction or concern that alleges a possible violation of minimum standards, rules, law, or abuse/neglect, and that involves potential risk to a child or children in care.

Residential Child-Care - (24-Hour Residential Child-Care) The care, custody, supervision, assessment, training, education, or treatment of an unrelated child or children up to the age of 18 years for 24 hours a day, that occurs in a place other than the child's own home. See DFPS Rules, 40 TAC, §745.35.

Residential Treatment Center (RTC) - A general residential operation that exclusively provides care and treatment services for emotional disorders for 13 or more children up to the age of 18 years.

Sampling Inspection - Licensing inspects a percentage of agency foster homes annually to determine compliance with applicable law, rules, and minimum standards, and to ensure that the child-placing agency is appropriately managing the foster home. The homes inspected are selected through a random sampling process, and the inspections are called "sampling" inspections.

School-Age Program - A licensed center that provides supervision along with recreation or skills instruction or training, and may provide transportation before or after the customary school day, for at least two hours a day, three days a week, to attending pre-kindergarten through grade six. A school-age program may also operate during school holidays, the summer period, or any other time when school is not in session.

Self-Report - An account from an operation of a serious incident that occurred at the operation. All regulated operations are required to make reports to Licensing about certain types of incidents that could pose a risk to children in care.

Small Employer Based Child-Care - A child-care facility that is operated by a small employer to provide care to not more than 12 children of the employer's employees and is located on the employer's premises. A "small employer" means a corporation, partnership, sole proprietorship, or other legal entity that employs fewer than 100 full-time employees.

SOAH - The State Office of Administrative Hearings is the state agency that conducts administrative hearings to satisfy a child-care provider's rights to due process regarding either a substantiated finding of abuse/neglect or a remedial action.

Suspension - A temporary closure of an operation that may be voluntary or involuntary. Voluntary suspensions are usually at the request of an operation, and licensing staff must inspect the operation prior to reopening to ensure compliance with standards. Involuntary, or emergency, suspension is imposed by Licensing for a maximum of 30 days based on serious and immediate risk of harm to children.

Team Inspections - Inspections that are conducted by at least two licensing staff. At least one of the unannounced annual inspections of a 24-hour residential child-care facility must be conducted by a team of at least two CCL monitoring staff. Other operation types may also have team inspections. Whenever possible, members of the inspection team are from different CCL units, to facilitate objectivity, and consistency in regulation.

Technical Assistance - Training, information, and consultation that licensing staff offer to a permit holder, applicant, and operation employees to help them comply with the minimum standard rules and applicable law.
