GLOSSARY OF TERMS FOR CHILD WELFARE ATTORNEYS

Adoption assistance agreement A written agreement between DFPS and adoptive parents that provides for payment, services or assistance to adoptive parents for eligible adopted children with special needs. Tex. Fam. Code §162.301 (1); 40 TAC §801 et seq.

Americans with Disabilities Act ("ADA") A federal law which gives persons with disabilities civil rights protection against discrimination. For the CPS population, the law is most commonly used as a tool to advocate for children with special education needs. For more information, see Advocacy Inc., www.advocacyinc.org or www.ada.gov.

Baby Moses law The popular name given to a law that permits leaving an infant in a statutorily designated location without being investigated for child abuse. The purpose is to encourage safe delivery of an infant that might otherwise be abandoned in a dumpster or other dangerous circumstance. Special procedures regarding confidentiality, notice and termination of parental rights apply in these cases. See Practice Guide, SECTION 9, SPECIAL ISSUES, Baby Moses.

Background checks CPS checks both the criminal and child abuse and neglect history of parents, caretakers and other persons residing with a child. The type of check performed and the impact of any findings varies depending on the type of proposed placement. See Practice Guide, SECTION 9, SPECIAL ISSUES, Laws Concerning Placements.

Battered-child syndrome A term coined in 1962 by Dr. Henry Kempe, a pioneer in the field of child welfare advocacy to describe medical findings indicative of child abuse. “The battered-child syndrome, a clinical condition in young children who have received serious physical abuse, is a frequent cause of permanent injury or death. The syndrome should be considered in any child exhibiting evidence of fracture of any bone, subdural hematoma, failure to thrive, soft tissue swellings or skin bruising, in any child who dies suddenly, or where the degree and type of injury is at variance with the history given regarding the occurrence of the trauma. Psychiatric factors are probably of prime importance in the pathogenesis of the disorder, but knowledge of these factors is limited. Physicians have a duty and responsibility to the child to require a full evaluation of the problem and to guarantee that no expected repetition of the trauma will be permitted to occur.” Kempe, Silverman, Steele, Droegemueller & Silver, The Battered-Child Syndrome, 181 JAMA 17 (July 7, 1962) See In re J.L.S., 793 S.W. 2d 79, 80 (Tex. App.-Corpus Christi, 1990, no pet.); U.S. v. Bowers, 660 F. 2d 527, (5th Cir. 1981).

Child Abuse Registry A confidential repository of child abuse and neglect findings maintained by DFPS which can be searched by authorized persons to determine what, if any, child abuse and neglect history an individual has. Tex. Fam. Code §261.002.

Child Advocacy Center ("CAC") A multi-disciplinary center covering a specific geographic area (county or counties) designed to improve the quality of child abuse or neglect investigations in a child sensitive environment. A CAC uses trained forensic Interviewers to minimize the trauma to a child while meeting the needs of CPS, law enforcement and prosecutors and works to promote collaboration between medical, law enforcement, social work, legal and other child welfare professionals. Tex. Fam. Code §264.401

Child Fatality Review Committee (CFRC) A statewide multidisciplinary committee designed to review child deaths to identify procedures to avoid preventable deaths and to promote awareness of these issues. Mandatory board members include individuals from the Department of State Health Services, law enforcement, DFPS, medical examiners and other health professionals. The CFRC is not limited to child deaths attributed to abuse or neglect, but includes accidents, illnesses and deaths of unknown causes. Tex. Fam. Code §§ 264.501-264.514.

Child Welfare Board (CWB) A board that may be appointed by a commissioner’s court to augment services for abused or neglected children in a county. Tex. Fam. Code § 264.005.

Citizenship & Immigration Status
(Note: Although no longer favored in common usage, “alien” is the term used in federal law to denote a person who is not a U.S. citizen.)

U. S. citizen: A person who is either born in the U.S. (or in some cases born abroad to a U.S. citizen parent) or who becomes a citizen through the naturalization process.

Permanent resident: (A.K.A. "lawful permanent resident") A person who has received an Alien Registration Receipt Card (commonly known as a "green card") which entitles the person to live and work in the U.S. permanently (barring certain criminal or other misconduct). After being a permanent resident for five years (or three in some instances), at age 18 a permanent resident who is otherwise eligible can apply to become a naturalized U. S. citizen.

Qualified alien This is a federal law term for persons who are eligible for certain public benefits. All permanent residents are qualified aliens, as are certain other categories of immigrants, including refugees, persons granted asylum, and a long list of others. See 8 U.S.C. §1641(b). Some persons, such as tourists, persons admitted on student or temporary work visas, are lawfully present in the U.S., but are not “qualified aliens.”

Special Immigrant Juvenile Status (SIJS) This federal law allows an eligible undocumented foster child who is unable to reunify with one or both parents to obtain Permanent Resident status by applying for SIJS. See Practice Guide, SECTION 9 SPECIAL ISSUES, Citizenship & Immigration Status.

Undocumented person: A person who is not a U.S. citizen and is in the U.S. without authorization of U.S. Citizenship & Immigration Services. This term is commonly used to refer to a person who entered the U.S. illegally or who entered legally on a time limited visa which expired.
Court Appointed Special Advocate (“CASA”) CASA is a non-profit organization which screens and trains volunteers willing to be appointed to serve as advocates for CPS children. Courts frequently appoint CASA volunteers as guardian ad litem for children in CPS conservatorship. TEX. FAM. CODE §§264.601-264.613.

Court of Continuing and Exclusive Jurisdiction (“CCEJ”) A Texas court that renders a final order in a Suit Affecting the Parent Child Relationship acquires continuing, exclusive jurisdiction. TEX. FAM. CODE 155.001. Immediately after the adversary hearing in a CPS case, the caseworker must file a request with the Department of State Health Services to determine whether there is a CCEJ. See Practice Guide, SECTION 3, LITIGATION ESSENTIALS.

De-Identification The process of editing or redacting confidential or privileged CPS records before release. See TEX. FAM. CODE § 261.201; 40 TAC §700.204.

Desarrollo Integral de la Familia (DIF) The national social services agency in Mexico which performs functions parallel to those of DFPS. DFPS staff work closely with counterparts within DIF to locate family members, obtain home evaluations and similar tasks. CPS has designated bilingual border liaisons that routinely work with DIF counterparts on child protective services issues.

Diagnostic and Statistical Manual of Mental Disorders (DSM-IV) The manual published by the American Psychiatric Association (APA) that categorizes all mental health disorders for children and adults. The DSM assesses five dimensions of mental health, including:

- Axis I: Clinical Syndromes, essentially the diagnosis;
- Axis II: Developmental Disorders and Personality Disorders;
- Axis III: Physical Conditions;
- Axis IV: Severity of Psychosocial Stressors; and
- Axis V: Highest Level of Functioning (rated both at present and the highest level in the past year).

For more information, see the APA website at: http://www.psych.org.

Disproportionality The overrepresentation of children of a particular race or ethnicity in the child welfare system. The goal of disproportionality projects is to address practice and policies that contribute to this phenomenon and in doing so, undo the impact of racism on child welfare practices. DFPS has several disproportionality projects underway and the Casey Foundation is resource for current information on this issue. See www.casey.org.

Failure to Thrive This is a diagnostic condition resulting from serious nutritional deprivation that causes a child not to grow and develop normally physically or mentally. This condition may be indicative of abuse or neglect. See Practice Guide, SECTION 6, EVIDENCE, Evidentiary Issues "A" to "Z.”
Family-Based Safety Services (FBSS) Protective services provided to a family to prevent the need to remove a child from the home. 40 TAC § 700.702.

Family Reunification Services Protective services provided to a family to aid in transitioning a child back into the home after a child has been in substitute care. 40 TAC § 700.703.

Family Group Decision Making This is a family-focused method for addressing child protection issues that originated in New Zealand and is now practiced in many jurisdictions, including Texas. The concept is to bring together as many concerned and interested parties as possible to discuss and problem solve issues that impact child safety. Invitees might include family members, friends, community leaders, religious advisors, counselors, educators and anyone else who might have something to contribute. The process is intended to give the family the primary responsibility for crafting a solution that is best suited for their particular situation.

Fetal Alcohol Syndrome ("FAS") A condition resulting from prenatal exposure to alcohol characterized by abnormal facial features, growth deficiencies, and central nervous system problems. See Center for Disease Control. http://www.cdc.gov/

The Hague Convention on Protection of Children and Co-operation in Respect of Intercountry Adoption An international treaty designed to protect children and families involved in adoptions between participating countries. See http://adoption.state.gov/hague/overview.html.

Hague Convention on Civil Aspects of International Child Abduction An international treaty designed to provide a remedy for persons seeking the return of children abducted to member countries. Congress implemented this treaty by enacting the International Child Abduction Remedies Act (ICARA), codified at 42 U.S.C.A. §11601 et seq.

Health, Social, Educational and Genetic History ("HSEGH") A report of a child’s health, social, educational and genetic history (including any history of physical, emotional or sexual abuse) which must be compiled as part of the adoption process. Tex. Fam. Code §§ 162.005-165.008.

Indian Child Welfare Act ("ICWA") A federal law that imposes special standards and requirements if a child protective services suit involves an “Indian child” (defined as a member of a federally recognized tribe or a child eligible for membership and the biological child of a member). See Practice Guide, SECTION 9, SPECIAL ISSUES, Indian Child Welfare Act.

Interstate Compact on Adoption & Medical Assistance ("ICAMA") An interstate agreement enacted into law by participating states designed to facilitate delivery of medical services for adopted children whose families either reside outside the state of the child’s residence at the time of adoption or who subsequently move out of state. Tex. Fam. Code § 162.201.

Interstate Compact on the Placement of Children (“ICPC”) A national compact enacted by state legislation in each jurisdiction that governs the placement of children across state lines. See Practice Guide, SECTION 9 SPECIAL ISSUES, Laws Concerning Placements.

Kinship Care The term used to refer to relatives or “fictive kin,” (friends of the family that function like relatives) who agree to serve as caretakers for children in CPS conservatorship. The law encourages these placements. See Tex. Fam. Code §264.751-264.759.

Legal Risk Placements The CPS term for a foster care placement made before parental rights are terminated with caretakers who seek to adopt, in order to expedite permanency and minimize disruption for a child. A legal risk placement is only made in specified circumstances where the likelihood of termination of parental rights is considered high.

Level of Care ("LOC") The CPS term used to describe the degree of services needed by a child in foster care. It determines the kind of foster care setting, the level of training required of a caregiver and the amount paid for foster care. The LOC may change during the time a child is in foster care after a periodic assessment. Assessment of each child in CPS care is made by a private contractor called Youth for Tomorrow (YTF-see below.) Children are assessed and placed in one of four levels of care, each characterized by the level of services required:

1. Basic Services – usually a family setting in a foster home, designed for a child with ordinary needs.
2. Moderate Services – usually a therapeutic or habilitative foster home with a structured, supportive setting, with access to therapeutic intervention or medical supports, designed for a child with frequent behavioral problems that present a moderate risk of harm to self or others.
3. Specialized Services – usually a group home or residential treatment center staffed with caregivers with specialized training, designed for children who need 24-hour close monitoring, and regular professional guidance, therapeutic, habilitative and medical intervention.
4. Intense Services – usually a residential treatment center or hospital where a child can get structure and limited outside access, designed for a child with behaviors that present an imminent, severe danger to self or others. Staff members are professionally trained, supervision is 24-hour and often 1 to 1 supervision to protect a child.

Multi-ethnic Placement Act, as amended by the Interethnic Adoption Act (“MEPA-IEP”) A federal law that restricts the use of race, color or national origin in the foster or adoptive placement process. State laws also impose specific restrictions on the placement process relating to race and ethnicity. See Practice Guide, SECTION 9, SPECIAL ISSUES, Laws Concerning Placements.

Munchausen Syndrome by Proxy (also known by more recent terminology as “Pediatric Condition Falsification,” or “Factitious Disorder by Proxy”) A form of child abuse that occurs when a parent or caretaker falsifies a child’s medical history, causes injury or illness in a child or falsifies laboratory results in order to get unnecessary and as a result often harmful medical intervention. See Practice Guide, SECTION 6 EVIDENCE, Evidentiary Issues from "A" to "Z."

Order in Aid of Investigation A court order to compel cooperation with specific components of a child abuse and neglect investigation. See Practice Guide, SECTION 1 - BEFORE FILING SUIT, Court Orders To Aid In Investigation.

Order to Participate in Services A court order to compel a parent or caretaker to participate in services designed to avoid the need to remove a child. See Practice Guide, SECTION1, BEFORE FILING SUIT, Alternatives to Removal.

Parental Child Safety Placement Formerly known as a voluntary placement, this a placement for a child selected by a parent when child safety issues are identified in the course of a CPS investigation, which placement may continue in a FBSS case. This type of placement serves the important function of enabling CPS to potentially avoid a removal, while maintaining the safety of the child and minimizing the disruption for the child and family.

Paternity Registry A registry maintained by the vital statistics unit of the bureau of vital statistics (“BVS”) that permits a man to register as a potential father of a child he may have fathered. Registering does not establish paternity but entitles the registrant to notice of any action to terminate parental rights or adoption involving the child. TEX. FAM. CODE §160.402.

Permanency Care Assistance Program. A new potential source of financial support for relatives or adults with a longstanding and significant relationship with a foster child (added by H.B. 1151 and SB 2080 , 81st Reg. Sess.). The benefits available under this program, which begins September 1, 2010, are similar to adoption assistance benefits and include monthly cash assistance and eligibility for Medicaid. However, only caretakers with whom the child resides for at least six consecutive months after the person becomes licensed or verified to provide foster care are eligible. In addition, these eligibility criteria must be satisfied before the relative/fictive kin is named managing conservator. In the context of the one year or even the maximum 18 month period before a case must be dismissed or a final order rendered, six consecutive month’s residence, which must accrue after the caretaker becomes licensed or verified and before the relative/fictive kin is named managing conservator, makes it essential that CPS, the court, and the attorneys all plan accordingly. Failure to do so may result in the caretaker being ineligible for benefits and, if financial support is necessary, could eliminate an otherwise appropriate and stable placement for a child. See TEX. FAM. CODE CH. 264, SUBCHAPTER K.
Permanent Judicial Commission for Children, Youth and Families An umbrella organization created by the Texas Supreme Court to promote court improvements to benefit the child welfare system.

Release hearing An administrative proceeding that allows a designated perpetrator or designated victim perpetrator an opportunity to appeal a decision by DFPS to release information about the person to individuals who have control over the person's access to children. DFPS is represented in these hearings by attorneys in the Licensing Division. 40 TAC § 700.601(2).

Servicemembers Civil Relief Act (SCRA) A federal law (formerly the Soldiers’ and Sailors’ Relief Act) that protects the legal rights of men and women on active duty with the military. If a parent in a CPS suit is missing, CPS must always check the military database to determine if the SCRA may apply and submit proof to the court. The SCRA may require a temporary stay of litigation involving a servicemember. 50 U.S.C. App. §501 et seq. See Practice Guide, SECTION 3 LITIGATION ESSENTIALS, Service of Process; Default Judgments

Sexual Assault Nurse Examiner (SANE) A registered nurse specially trained in procedures for forensic sexual assault examinations, including evidence collection and courtroom testimony. For more information, contact the Sexual Assault Prevention and Crisis Services (SAPCS), a program of the Crime Victim Services Division of the Office of the Attorney General which offers training, resources and information, at https://www.texasattorneygeneral.gov/cvs/sexual-assault-prevention-and-crisis-services Shaken Baby Syndrome “This term describes a constellation of findings, which may include retinal hemorrhages; subdural or subarachnoid hemorrhages, or both; edema, cerebral contusion, and infarction; rib fractures; and multiple traction changes from violent shaking in the long bones and limbs. These injuries may exist with little or no external signs of trauma.” Kessler & Hyden, Physical, Sexual and Emotional Abuse of Children, 43 Clinical Symposia 1, 13 (1991); See Practice Guide, SECTION 6 Evidentiary Issues "A" to "Z," or www.shakenbaby.org.

Social Security Act This federal law is a primary source of federal funding for child protective services. The titles most relevant to CPS are:

Title IV-B This is the source of federal funding for Child Welfare Services (Part 1), and Promoting Safe and Stable Families (Part 2). See 42 U.S.C. §

Title IV-D This title creates the state’s child support enforcement program. The Child Support Division of the Office of Attorney General (also known as the IV-D state agency) is responsible for the establishment and enforcement of child support. See 42 U.S.C. § 651 et seq.
Title IV-E This is the source of federal foster care and adoption assistance funding and the accompanying restrictions and requirements. See 42 U.S.C. § 670 et seq.

Statewide Intake (SWI) This is the DFPS division designated to receive all reports or intakes of child abuse or neglect by toll free telephone, fax or internet 24 hours day, 7 days a week, 365 days a year. Specially trained staff receive, prioritize and send reports of abuse and neglect to the appropriate regional office for investigation.

Texas Adoption Resource Exchange (TARE) An intranet site maintained by DFPS for registration of children available for foster and adoptive placement and prospective foster and adoptive parents seeking children.

Transitional Living Services These are CPS programs that provide services and support for young people 14 to 21 years of age who are currently or formerly in foster care, or transitioning out of care, including Preparation for Adult Living (PAL), Education and Training Vouchers (ETV), and others. See TEX. FAM. CODE §§264.121; 263.502; 40 TAC §700.1601-1604.

Uniform Child Custody Jurisdiction and Enforcement Act (UCCJEA) A uniform act enacted by most states (including Texas) that delineates which state has original jurisdiction of a child custody suit, and when a court can exercise continuing jurisdiction or modify a child custody order. See TEX. FAM. CODE CH. 152, Vienna Convention on Consular Affairs An international treaty adopted by the U. S. which requires all states to give notice to the foreign consul when a foreign citizen child is taken into custody. CPS policy requires that the caseworker give notice to the appropriate foreign consul in this circumstance and provides a form letter for this purpose. See Practice Guide, SECTION 9, SPECIAL ISSUES, Citizenship & Immigration Issues.

Voluntary Adoption Registry This is a registry maintained by the Bureau of Vital Statistics, a division of the Department of State Health Services which allows adoptees at age 18, birth parents and adult biological siblings to register a desire to locate each other. If a match is made, the BVS notifies the parties. This is available to all birth parents, biological siblings and adoptees, regardless of whether CPS was involved in the case. See TEX. FAM. CODE §§ 162.401 -162.422.

Youth For Tomorrow (“YFT”) A non-profit entity responsible for determining the appropriate level of care of a child in CPS care based on review of the documents. A caseworker can assign a child a basic level of care initially but if the child requires a higher level of services, the caseworker must submit a “common application,” with a detailed history of the child’s placements, medical and mental health history and current status to Youth for Tomorrow.
