TYPES OF BACKGROUND CHECKS

DFPS must complete the types of background checks defined below on all persons who have applied to become approved or verified as foster or adoptive parents, as well as certain household members of foster and adoptive applicants and certain individuals who may be present in the foster or adoptive home. The types of checks that a person is required to undergo will depend on the person's role in the home. The types of checks that may be conducted are as follows:

- DPS Criminal History Check – A name-based check of records from the Texas Department of Public Safety (DPS).
- FBI Fingerprint Check – A fingerprint-based check of records from the FBI National Crime Database.
- DFPS History Check – A check of DFPS's database for abuse or neglect. The search identifies all CPS, APS, and Child Care Licensing cases that reference the subject of the background check as a principal or collateral source, regardless of the subject's role or relationship in the case.
- Out of State Registry Check – A check of child protective services records in other states where the applicant or any household member over age 18 has lived since becoming 18 years of age.
- Local Law Enforcement Check – A check to obtain additional information from local police or sheriff department.

See 40 Texas Administrative Code §745.611 (note: checks conducted by FAD may be more extensive than those minimally required by Child-Care Licensing)

An unrelated applicant is barred and a related applicant may be denied verification as a foster parent or approval as an adoptive parent, if the applicant or any other person who is 14 years old or older, is a household member, an employee of the applicant, or a frequent or regular visitor in the applicant's home, and is not under DFPS conservatorship had been given a DFPS investigative finding of Reason to Believe for physical abuse in Texas, or any like findings under the laws of another state. Persons with a Reason to Believe finding for physical abuse in Texas or another state may be eligible for a risk evaluation before a final decision is made of whether to verify or approve an applicant to foster or adopt. However, the person against whom the finding was issued may be temporarily barred from being present in a foster or adoptive home if Child Care Licensing determines that the person is an immediate threat or danger to the health or safety of children.

An applicant will not be approved as a foster or adoptive parent, if the applicant or any other person who is 14 years old or older, is a household member, an employee of the applicant, or a frequent or regular visitor in the applicant's home, and is not under DFPS conservatorship has an investigation for abuse or neglect pending in this or any other state.

Criminal History

An applicant will be permanently barred from verification as a foster parent or approval as an adoptive parent, if the applicant or any other person who is 14 years old or older, is a household member, an employee of the applicant, or a frequent or regular visitor in the applicant's home, and is not under DFPS conservatorship has been convicted of a felony offense in the Texas Penal Code that are listed as a permanent bar on the criminal history assessment chart, or convicted of any other like offense under the law of another state or federal law.

Criminal history that is not listed on the chart as a permanent bar to becoming verified or approved may still impact an application or an applicant's eligibility to receive a risk evaluation.

An "Attempt to Commit" conviction will be treated as falling under the same section of the Texas Penal Code as the crime that was attempted.

Additionally, an applicant is barred from verification as a foster parent or approval as an adoptive parent, if the applicant or any other person who is 14 years old or older, is a household member, an employee of the applicant, or a frequent or regular visitor in the applicant's home, and is not under DFPS conservatorship, has been indicted for (or is the subject of a criminal complaint related to) any of the applicable felonies listed on the criminal history assessment chart and the indictment or complaint has been accepted by a district or county attorney. This bar on verification or approval remains until the criminal charges are dismissed or as long as the applicant or other person who is either under indictment or the subject of an accepted criminal complaint lives, remains employed, or continues to be a frequent or regular visitor to the home.

Upon request, DFPS provides applicants with a paper copy of the criminal history assessment chart used to determine what convictions are available for risk evaluations and what convictions are considered temporary or permanent bars to verification or approval. Please consult the chart to determine how a specific conviction, if any, may impact an application to verify or approve. If you have a criminal history that is not listed as a temporary or permanent bar to verification or approval, please consult with DFPS staff. If you need assistance understanding the chart, please contact DFPS staff for further guidance and explanation.
